New York, April 23.—The important changes in the stock market today during the first fifteen minutes were to lower figures, with the greatest loss sustained in Ohio Cities Gas, which dropped over four points to 131. Industrial Alcohol which closed on Saturday at 103.5, declined to 101.4. Many of the leading stocks yielded about one point during the first fifteen minutes. U. S. Steel Common opened up 1/2 at 111 1/2 from which it declined to 110 1/2. Republic Iron and Steel yielded 1 1/2 to 78 and Anaconda sold down 1/2 to 75 1/2. Reading was traded in ex-dividend at opening and sold at 93 1/2. Union Pacific opened up 1/2 at 126 1/2 and reacted to 126 1/2. Bethlehem Steel advanced 1 1/2 to 116 1/2, and then dropped to 114 1/2.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

The remains of Miss Harriet Yale, who died at Poughkeepsie on April 19, were brought to Kingston and the funeral took place on Saturday from the Trinity M. E. Church, the service being conducted by the Rev. P. C. Weyant.

Frank Terpening, a retired New York policeman, died on Saturday evening in that city. Mr. Terpening had been a member of the force for twenty years when he was retired. For the past three or four years he has been in ill health. Besides his wife he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Edward Burger of this city, and Mrs. George Cornish of Deal, N. J. The funeral will be held from the St. Remy Church on Wednesday, with interment in St. Remy. The hour will be announced later.

Military honors were accorded to the late Chaplain Abram Tracey Drake, whose funeral took place this afternoon from St. James's Methodist Episcopal Church, of which he had been an active member for many years. Members of Pratt Post, No. 127, G. A. R., the official board of St. James Church and the Patriotic Order Sons of America, Sons of Veterans and W. R. Harrison's Bible class attended the service in a body. The service was conducted by the Rev. T. H. Baragwanath, pastor of the church, and was impressive. In accordance with the expressed wish of Chaplain Drake, Herman Lefort beautifully sang his two favorite hymns during the service, "There is a Beautiful Land on High" and "The Sweet Bye and Bye." The honorary pall bearers were Major William Vallette, Edward W. Matheson, John W. Lowm and John DeGraft. The active bearers, all of whom are members of the church, were William R. Harrison, Samuel D. Gibson, Irving Rose Crawford, R. Styles, Henry Basch and Edwin L. Angles. At the request of Pratt Post Captain Frank L. Neagher of Company M designated a firing squad to attend the funeral and escort the remains from the church to the grave in Wiltwyck Cemetery, where services were in charge of Pratt Post. At the close of the service at the grave the remains were borne by Bugler Newton E. Cooke of Company I, Seventy-first Regiment, which is now stationed in this city. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

Dr. Herman Craft who has been prominent in the medical profession and active in the political affairs of Ulster county for more than half a century, died at his home at Stone Ridge on Saturday afternoon in his eighty-first year. Dr. Craft was a native of Rondout and had spent most of his life in Ulster county. He was a son of the late Thomas S. and Maria Rosenkranz Craft and was born in Rondout on December 4, 1836. He attended the public school in Rondout and afterward received instruction in Charlottesville, Schenectady county, high school, and the Ellenville High School. After teaching school for one year he took up the study of medicine with the late Dr. George Chambers of Stone Ridge, who was of the most eminent doctors of the county. After completing his studies with Dr. Chambers, he attended the Medical School of the University of the City of New York, from which he was graduated in 1859. He began the practice of his profession in the town of Wawarsing, where he remained for a year and a half. During that period he was married, on May 2, 1860, to Mary J. Sedwick of Wawarsing. He removed to Fallsburgh, Sullivan county, after his marriage, but disposed of his business there after a year and a half in order to prepare himself for service in the army. After six months' preparation he entered the army as an assistant surgeon in the One Hundred and Forty-third Regiment, New York Volunteers, and served with that regiment for fifteen months. He resigned his position to accept appointment in the Mount Pleasant Hospital at Washington, D. C., where he was assistant surgeon in the medical corps of the regular army, remaining there until the close of the war. On receiving his discharge from the army he returned to Ulster county and settled at Stone Ridge, where he has since made his home. During his long residence there Dr. Craft has been prominently identified with every public movement. His practice was extensive and he became one of the best known physicians in the county. He was active in Republican politics for many years. He was elected assemblyman in 1886 and served one term. In 1887 he was elected supervisor of the town of Marbletown and continued to hold

SAUGERTIES ROAD AUTO ACCIDENT

Four Young People Shook Up When Their Automobile Tipped Over, but All Escaped Serious Injury—How It Happened.

Sunday at midnight an automobile in which Isadore Werbalowsky, Thomas Edwards, Miss May Betto and Miss Florence Soulliere were riding tipped over near John Corra's hotel on the Saugerties road, pinning one of the young women under it and badly shaking up the entire party. They were taken to the Kingston City Hospital, where it was found that all of the party were bruised, but otherwise uninjured. Miss Betto was unconscious when taken to the hospital but her condition was so far improved today that she was discharged from the hospital.

The automobile in which the party were riding was owned by Werbalowsky and Edwards was driving it at the time of the accident. According to the story the members of the party told Sergeant Hanley they were driving along the road at a fair speed when a red touring car came up behind and crashed into them, tipping their car over. The red touring car did not stop but continued on. The Werbalowsky car was wrecked. The young men are residents of the lower section of the city and the young women claim Cohoes as their home. They have been boarding at No. 734 Broadway for the past two weeks.

CLEAN-UP WEEK BEGINS ON MONDAY

Mayor Canfield's Proclamation Calls on All Good Citizens to Come to the Aid of Sanitation and Make a Cleaner Kingston.

Clean-up, clean-up and paint-up. Away with the rubbish and make home grounds and vacant lots as attractive as possible are some of the points made in the proclamation given out by Mayor Canfield this morning setting the week beginning next Monday as "Clean-up Week" for Kingston. The proclamation is as follows:

In conformity with a custom which has become firmly established in practically all of the cities of this state for the betterment of public health and cleanliness, I hereby designate the week beginning April 30th next as "Clean-up Week" in the city of Kingston.

It is urged that all co-operate to improve the sanitary and hygienic conditions throughout the city. To accomplish this, it is urged that all homes and stores, barns and buildings be given a thorough cleaning and that all rubbish be removed, and that all house lots and vacant lots be made as clean and attractive as possible.

All refuse should be placed in receptacles and placed on the street on the regular day for the collection of ashes and rubbish. Storekeepers are requested to give an impetus to the sale of brushes, brooms, paint and all cleaning and gardening materials and appliances. To enter into the spirit of the day and to make the city more attractive and appear more patriotic, all homes should be adorned with our flag. All organizations in the city are asked to co-operate. All are requested to lend their aid and assistance to make "Clean-up Week" successful. Clean-up, paint-up, and exercise your civic and personal pride.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand this 23rd day of April, in the year nineteen hundred and seventeen.

PALMER CANFIELD, JR., Mayor.

Fill Out Blanks, Don't Phone.

Women anxious to serve during the Military Census are urged to fill out the application blanks published in the press and forward same to headquarters, instead of volunteering by telephone to the chairman. The application blanks when filled out serve as a record and ready for immediate call.

Glass and Game Broken Up.

He was an active member of the Episcopal Church at Stone Ridge, of which he was vestryman at the time of his death, and for a number of years had been a member of the Ulster County Medical Society. He was also a member of Pratt Post, No. 127, G. A. R., of this city. He is survived by his widow and four children. Miss Georgia, who is a trained nurse in New York city, Miss Mary C. Craft, a teacher in the New York city schools, Alphonso Craft of Stone Ridge and Charles H. Craft of New York city. The funeral took place from his late residence this afternoon and the interment was in Stone Ridge.

OFFICIAL CALLS TAKE UP TIME OF HIGH COMMISSION

Arrival of French Body Awaited Before Getting Down to Business—Washington Gives Great Welcome to Allies' Mission—Here to Answer Questions, Says Balfour.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, April 23.—"To serve and answer questions; not to make suggestions or requests."

That is the attitude of the British high war commission now in Washington. Its members made this very plain today. Great Britain accepts the presence of the United States in the war against Germany as the final weight to throw the balance on the side of victory. But it has no desire to assume to dictate what this country will do. That is for President Wilson and the officials of the government to decide, the officials of the British mission say. They are here to place at the disposal of the United States the results of the three years of war through which England has gone in the hope that some of the mistakes made can be avoided here. The mission will not get down to actual work until the arrival in this city of the French high commission headed by former Premier Vivanti and Field Marshal Joffre. The date of the arrival of the French representatives is withheld by the state department from motives of caution.

A good part of the present work is to be devoted by the British visitors to getting acquainted. Former Premier Arthur J. Balfour, the chief of the delegation, is a lively program mapped out which carried him through today and well into tonight.

Mr. Balfour's movements, as arranged for today, provides: 10.45 a. m., official call upon Secretary of State Lansing. 11 a. m., official call on President Wilson. 12 noon, official call upon Vice-President Marshall. 1 p. m., luncheon at the French embassy with Ambassador Jusserand. 8 p. m., dinner at the White House with President Wilson.

Making Duty Calls. While Mr. Balfour was making the official round demanded by international etiquette the members of his staff were making the duty calls required of them. Admiral Sir Dudley De Chair, accompanied by Fleet Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, D. S. O., and with Commander D. F. Sellers, U. S. N., as their guide, visited Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Lieutenant General G. T. M. Bridges and the military members of his staff. The visiting Englishmen will make their first public appearance tomorrow night at a public reception arranged by Secretary of State Lansing. It will be in the Pan-American Building and will be participated in by men only.

No program for the conferences has yet been approved. That will depend on the convenience of the visitors. It is certain that Secretary Balfour will spend much time with President Wilson. Secretary Lansing after consulting with the members of the mission as to their preferences will arrange the complete program which will very likely be reported to tomorrow's cabinet meeting.

Six Important Questions.

Roughly speaking, among the questions which the mission will advise with the United States on are about as follows:

First—The complete measure of participation by the United States navy in clearing the seas of the German submarine menace and in patrolling certain sections of ocean against German commerce raiders.

Second—The manner of the distribution of the three billion dollar loan which congress has set aside for the benefit of the enemies of Germany.

Third—The best plan for combating the German effort to starve Great Britain and France and the establishment of safe sea lanes which will be properly protected so that an uninterrupted procession of food supplies and needed munitions can go forward from this country.

Fourth—How the Entente veterans can aid and assist the United States in preparing its armies for actual participation in the war.

Fifth—What methods are to be adopted by the United States to prevent foodstuffs shipped from here to the neutral nations of Europe falling into the hands of the enemy.

Sixth—How the United States can benefit as the result of the espionage experiences of the Entente nations.

To Withdraw Blacklists.

Many of the collateral issues involved in the above general subjects will be settled in an entirely unofficial way. It is understood here that the British commission is willing to go to extreme lengths to aid this country in every way and in this connection concessions are to be made to the United States in the line of mail censorship, withdrawal of trade blacklists and the like. There is a distinct possibility that before the conferences end a financial alliance between England and the United States will be arranged. Already it is certain that the bulk of the three billion bond issue will go to France and Russia. But is expected that a working agreement can be reached between the treasury, the Bank of England and the so-called British group of American financiers which will prove very advantageous to the British treasury. The question of the Russian loan and in fact the entire internal situation in Russia will be up for consideration at the conferences. Officials say that the latest advances from Russia are more reassuring and that it is now considered certain that the council will be able to complete a permanent government there which will stand steadfastly by the Entente. This naturally will simplify conditions so far as the anti-German cause is concerned.

Washington's Great Welcome.

Washington is outdoing itself today in its welcome to the distinguished visitors. The city, shimmering in the green of a late spring, is flag-bedecked. From poles, windows and even from the front of the fast-moving automobiles the flags of Great Britain, France and the United States are displayed with a prodigality eclipsing anything in the recent history of the city. Crowds of people cheer the visitors wherever they are seen and recognized. There is no question of the warmth of the welcome which the staid Britishers themselves admit has greatly touched them.

The most elaborate precautions have been taken for the safety of the visitors. Secretary Balfour and the members of his personal suite are quartered in the residence of Third Assistant Secretary of State Breckinridge Long. A ring of steel encircles the house, troopers from the Second Cavalry are on guard night and day and no one is allowed inside the grounds unless they have the necessary credentials. In addition a small army of secret service men and members of the Washington police force assist in the duty of seeing that no untoward incident disturbs the guests of the nation.

Similar precautions are taken at the downtown hotel where sixty rooms have been set aside for the guests.

GRAND VIEW INN OPENS MAY 30

The Grand View Inn at Rifton, which was opened for a short time last year, will be thrown open on Memorial Day for inspection and will remain open for about a week. The inn will open for the season June 15. The building is fully equipped as a hotel and will also have bowling alleys, a billiard room and a barbershop, and on the grounds will have a baseball diamond, a tennis court and a basketball court.

The town board of Esopus has set aside $1,000 for the improvement of the road leading past the hotel and work is now in progress. The hotel is located between St. Remy and Rifton, a short distance from the state road on which is known as the powder mill road which runs from the state road to Union Center.

The hotel is reached by rail from Ulster Park, and by boat from this city. An auto line will also run from this city to the hotel.

J. O. U. A. M. Will Attend.

Charles DeWitt Council, No. 91, Junior Order United American Mechanics, has accepted an invitation to be present at the big patriotic rally to be held in the high school on Wednesday evening, April 25. All members are requested to meet at the lodge rooms at 7:30 o'clock and march from there to the high school. In a body where seats will be reserved. Every member should show his patriotism and loyalty to the flag and country and turn out strong on Wednesday evening.

Waters Complaint Withdrawn.

Frank Waters, Jr., was discharged Saturday afternoon when arraigned before Recorder Lang in recorder's court as the corporation counsel withdrew the complaint lodged against Waters by the police. Mr. Waters was arrested on a charge of using glaring headlights on the brick pavement. The arrest was made by Officer O'Neill.

POLICE AID GET-RICH-QUICK PLAN

That is They Do It Unknowingly—Every One Should Learn How to Make Hundreds of Dollars by Being a Correspondent—Cost $5 Only.

That chiefs of police are being invoked to aid a get-rich-quick scheme has been brought to light by activities of the National Press Bureau of Buffalo who will teach any one—having a five dollar bill to spare—how to become a newspaper correspondent, and earn at least $100 a month extra sending news to out of town newspapers.

The chief of police is brought into the scheme by the Bureau sending him a postcard reading in part as follows: "Do you know a live young newspaper reporter in your town who would like to earn a good income in spare time corresponding for outside newspapers?" It then goes on to state that the Bureau would appreciate the favor if the chief would hand the card to the aforesaid bright young reporter for which the Bureau thanks the chief and closes with the following: "Thanking you, and trusting we may be able to reciprocate, we are, etc."

The Bureau does not state that it will divide the five spot the future correspondent will send them, with the chief, Nay, nay that would never do.

After the chief of police has selected a bright young reporter and handed him the postcard the drama of riches moves on to the next scene which shows the bright young reporter busily dishing out a reply to the postcard and mailing it to the bureau.

At this point the curtain drops for a few days to give the card a chance to reach the Bureau. The next scene in this play shows the card being read by the Bureau and a close up shows that literature is being prepared to send to the aforesaid bright young man.

The next scene shows the bright young reporter receiving the literature, and opening it with trembling hands. A close up should be shown of the trembling hands. A close up should also be shown of the proposition of the Bureau literature explaining how the bright young man can increase his income to $100 a month, and maybe more—it does not say anything about less. The first step is to send on $5 for the instructions.

From the literature sent the bright young man the following gems are taken:

"Any intelligent person with a taste or talent for journalism should earn a splendid income corresponding for newspapers." (The word "should" ought to be in capital letters, but is not.)

This gem interests newspapermen: "Journalism is the easiest profession in the world to learn, and newspaper correspondence is the easiest branch of journalism." It is also the most profitable for the beginner, because highly developed literary talent is not required of the man or woman who writes news for a newspaper.

It might be added here that the would-be correspondent after he has sent the $5 will also receive a card of credentials from the Bureau stating that he is a newspaper correspondent and recommending that "the usual courtesies" be extended to the correspondent. There is no extra charge for this card, and it is a "convenient thing to have."

With the present high cost of living the National Press Bureau offers a fine field for any one desirous to add enough money to their income to enable them to have an egg extra for breakfast and eat real butter instead of a substitute, and undoubtedly there will be a big rush of mail to the Bureau from young men and women who hasten to avail themselves of this glittering opportunity.

It might be added in closing that this "invaluable course" formerly cost $3 but on account of the high cost of paper has been advanced to $5.

DOES PATRIOTISM PAY?

Wager Your Foundation Dollar That It Does on Flags.

With the declaration of war, the president requested all the citizens of the country to demonstrate their patriotism. No class responded more promptly than did the dealers in flags, who immediately raised the price of all American and foreign flags five hundred per cent, with the result that foreign flags at once went out of the market. Judge Clearwater, determined to have the colors of the two allied nations for the patriotic mass meeting on Wednesday night, was compelled to telephone to Montreal to procure the flags of Great Britain and of France, which have arrived.

Soldiers Appreciated.

The following is an extract from the New Paltz, N. Y., Times: If the National Guard of the country is to be judged for the gentleness of its members, from the members of the Tenth New York Infantry stationed here, we Americans should feel proud of our soldiers. The Tenth Infantrymen, officers and private, have proven that a man can be both a soldier and a gentleman, and the people of New Paltz will not soon forget this combination of qualities.

ESOPUS FOLK FOR MOBILIZING FARMS

Many Sound Reasons Advanced at Saturday Night's Meeting for Co-operation to Solve Problems of Crisis—Some Sensible Addresses Which Hit the Mark.

Nearly 200 persons were in attendance at the Farmers' Mobilization meeting of the town of Esopus held in I. O. O. F. Hall at Ulster Park Saturday evening, called pursuant to the proclamations of President Wilson and Governor Whitman, and listened attentively to the addresses, a number taking part in the discussion that followed. After hearing the purpose and necessity of the farm census explained, the meeting enthusiastically adopted a resolution endorsing the work and a number of those present volunteered to aid by using their automobiles or horses for the purpose of taking the teachers around their respective districts.

John Herring, the town chairman, presided and stated in his opening address that when summoned to the emergency conference in Kingston by Manager Hook he thought it was nonsense and the farmers could best help their country by remaining at work on their farms. But he obeyed the summons because Manager Hook spoke as though he expected obedience and very soon after the conference had opened it became very plain that the time was not being wasted. "In fact," said Mr. Herring, "the conference was so important and interesting that I mixed both trains and had to beg a ride home."

Addresses were made commending the spirit of obedience shown by Mr. Herring, a spirit in which the American people are sadly lacking, and setting forth the enormity of the crisis confronting the nation and the world by reason of war increasing demand and diminishing production while extraordinary crop shortages had made more acute the condition. The failure of people generally to appreciate the danger of food shortage was emphasized by the Rev. Mr. Van Oostenbrugge and other speakers, while Mr. Dumond spoke forcefully and to the point of the need for greater economy in the home and the utilizing of surplus vegetables by home canning.

The Rev. C. H. Polhemus said that while each farmer should specialize on the crop his land was best adapted to, he should not forget to at least supply his own table with other food, such as poultry for both meat and eggs. The children should be mobilized and the farm garden be made more productive. The present emergency had caused the farmer to receive recognition and from being regarded as a poor, groveling creature he was now considered a hero of the hour. It would be a good thing for the school pupils to get out and work, to mobilize with the shovel and hoe. It would be good to leave out some of the useless studies, the only excuse for which was that they sharpened the brain. It is folly to spend years in sharpening an axe and then never use it. Clergymen should realize that it was not necessary for them to never appear except in a long black coat and a steeple hat and that it was good to roll one's hands in real toil. It will be a good thing for a great many people if they have to experience hardship. Starvation may bring them to their senses and teach them to at least respect those who work.

A general discussion of the labor and marketing problems, in which Judge Bunn, William C. Schryver, L. M. Hermance, Leslie Herring, Mr. Dumond and others took part, disclosed the fact that the movement to supply high school boys for farm work was not very highly regarded. The general sentiment was that to place inexperienced boys on a farm would be of little benefit to anybody, as farm work requires training as well as good intentions and an inexperienced boy might easily do far more damage than could be compensated for by his entire season's work. After everybody had told his tale of woe regarding marketing conditions without offering a solution of the difficulty, ex-Superior George E. House made the speech of the evening in one sentence: "The answer to all this is for the farmers to co-operate."

Cries of "You've said it" greeted this remark, but whether anybody will act on what all conceded to be true remains to be seen.

Mahar Sent to Camp.

Thomas Mahar was arrested on Saturday by Officer Sahloff on the complaint of Dr. F. A. Johnston, the health officer, and when arraigned before Recorder Lang was committed to the tuberculosis camp. Some time ago Mahar while at the tuberculosis camp created a disturbance and was sent to Albany. When he was discharged he went to Resende and applied for aid, but the authorities there took him to the county home and he was later delivered to Superintendent Edmondson at the city home. As he is tubercular it was not desired to have him there and he was again committed to the camp.

A Last Reminder.

This is the last reminder of the spring supper to be served by the ladies of the Fair Street Reformed Church on Wednesday, April 25, from 5:30 to 8 o'clock. In connection with the supper there will be a "moral post sale" where Mrs. B. Cole will act as postmistress. There is promise of many surprise packages.

The proclamation is as follows:

In conformity with a custom which has become firmly established in this city, all of the offices of this state for the betterment of public health and cleanliness, I hereby designate the week beginning April 30th next as "Clean-up Week" in the city of Kingston.

It is urged that all co-operate to improve the sanitary and hygienic conditions throughout the city. To accomplish this, it is urged that all homes and stores, barns and buildings be given a thorough cleaning and that all house lots and vacant lots be made as clean and attractive as possible.

All refuse should be placed in receptacles and placed on the street on the regular day for the collection of ashes and rubbish.

Streetkeepers are requested to give an impetus to the sale of brushes, brooms, paint and all cleaning and gardening materials and appliances.

To enter into the spirit of the day and to make the city more attractive and appear more patriotic, all homes should be adorned with our flag.

All organizations in the city are asked to co-operate. All are requested to lend their aid and assistance to make "Clean-up Week" successful. Clean-up, paint-up, and exercise your civic and personal pride.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand this 23rd day of April, in the year nineteen hundred and seventeen.

PALMER CANFIELD, JR., Mayor.

Fill Out Blanks, Don't Phone.

Women anxious to serve during the Military Census are urged to fill out the application blanks published in the press and forward same to headquarters, instead of volunteering by telephone to the chairman. The application blanks when filled out serve as a record and ready for immediate call.

Glass and Game Broken Up.

In a baseball game Saturday morning East Kingston defeated the Shamrocks at East Kingston 8 to 4. Two windows were broken and the game was called off to permit of an assessment on the players who had to raise the cash to pay the damages.

At Benedictine Sanitarium.

On Saturday the city ambulance conveyed Mrs. Anthony Hoffman of No. 32 Chambers street, and George Van Deusen of No. 25 Foxhall, avenue to the Benedictine Sanitarium.

That office until 1895. He was an active member of the Episcopal Church at Stone Ridge, of which he was vestryman at the time of his death, and for a number of years had been a member of the Ulster County Medical Society. He was also a member of Pratt Post, No. 127, U. S. A. R., of this city. He is survived by his widow and four children. Miss Georgia, who is a trained nurse in New York city; Miss Mary C. Craft, a teacher in the New York city schools; Alphonse Craft of Stone Ridge; and Charles H. Craft of New York city. The funeral took place from his late residence this afternoon and the interment was in Stone Ridge.

OFFICIAL CALLS TAKE UP TIME OF HIGH COMMISSION

Arrival of French Body Awaited Before Getting Down to Business—Washington Gives Great Welcome to Allies' Mission—Here to Answer Questions, Says Balfour.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, April 23.—"To serve and answer questions; not to make suggestions or requests." That is the attitude of the British high war commission now in Washington. Its members made this very plain today. Great Britain accepts the presence of the United States in the war against Germany as the final weight to throw the balance on the side of victory. But it has no desire to assume to dictate what this country will do. That is for President Wilson and the officials of the government to decide, the officials of the British mission say. They are here to place at the disposal of the United States the results of the three years of war through which England has gone in the hope that some of the mistakes made can be avoided here.

The mission will not get down to actual work until the arrival in this city of the French high commission headed by former Premier Vivanti and Field Marshal Joffre. The date of the arrival of the French representatives is withheld by the state department from motives of caution. A good part of the present work is to be done by the British visitors to the getting acquainted. Former Premier Arthur J. Balfour, the chief of the delegation, had a lively program mapped out which carried him through today and well into tonight. Mr. Balfour's movements, as arranged for today, provides: 10.45 a. m., official call upon Secretary of State Lansing. 11 a. m., official call on President Wilson. 12 noon, official call upon Vice-President Marshall. 1 p. m., luncheon at the French embassy with Ambassador Jusserand. 8 p. m., dinner at the White House with President Wilson.

Making Duty Calls. While Mr. Balfour was making the official round demanded by international etiquette, the members of his staff were making the duty calls required of them. Admiral Sir Dudley De Chair, accompanied by Fleet Commander Vincent Lowford, D. S. O. and with Commander D. F. Sellers, U. S. N., as their guide, visited Secretary of the Navy Daniels. Lieutenant General G. T. M. Bridges and the military members of his staff visited Secretary of War Baker and paid their respects while Lord Curzon, governor of the Bank of England and Sir Richard Crawford called upon Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

The visiting Englishmen will make their first public appearance tomorrow night at a public reception arranged by Secretary of State Lansing. It will be in the Pan-American Building and will be participated in by many.

No program for the conferences has yet been approved. That will depend on the convenience of the visitors. It is certain that Secretary Balfour will spend much time with President Wilson. Secretary Lansing after consulting with the members of the mission as to their preferences will arrange the complete program which will very likely be reported to tomorrow's cabinet meeting.

Six Important Questions. Roughly speaking, among the questions which the mission will advise with the United States are about as follows:

First—The complete measure of participation by the United States navy in clearing the seas of the German submarine menace and in patrolling certain sections of ocean against German commerce raiders.

Second—The manner of the distribution of the three billion dollar loan which congress has set aside for the benefit of the enemies of Germany.

Third—The best plan for combating the German effort to starve Great Britain and France and the establishment of sea lanes which will be properly protected so that an uninterrupted procession of food supplies and needed munitions can go forward from this country.

Fourth—How the Entente veterans can aid and assist the United States in preparing its armies for actual participation in the war.

Fifth—What methods are to be adopted by the allied states to prevent foodstuffs shipped from here to the neutral nations of Europe falling into the hands of the enemy.

Sixth—How the United States can benefit as the result of the espionage experiences of the Entente nations.

To Withdraw Blacklists.

Many of the collateral issues involved in the above general subjects will be settled in an entirely unofficial way. It is understood here that the British commission is willing to go to extreme lengths to aid this country in every way and in this connection concessions are to be made to the United States in the line of mail censorship, withdrawal of trade blacklists and the ability to before the conference England and the United States will be arranged. Already it is certain that the bulk of the three billion bond issue will go to France and Russia. But is expected that a working agreement can be reached between the treasury, Leonard Bonney, two of the aviators who dropped universal military service petitions from their aeroplanes on the throngs who watched the "Wake Up America" parade in New York city. The men are shown with bundles of the petitions.

The Bank of England and the so-called British group of American financiers which will prove very advantageous to the British treasury.

The question of the Russian loan and in fact the entire internal situation in Russia will be up for consideration at the conferences. Officials say that the latest advice from Russia are more reassuring and that it is now considered certain that the council will be able to complete a permanent government there which will stand steadily by the Entente. This naturally will simplify conditions so far as the anti-German cause is concerned.

Washington's Great Welcome. Washington is outdoing itself today in its welcome to the distinguished visitors. The city, shimmering in the green of a late spring, is flag-draped. From poles, windows and balconies the flags of Great Britain, France and the United States are displayed with a profusion eclipsing anything in the recent history of the city. Crowds of people cheer the visitors wherever they are seen and recognized. There is no question of the warmth of the welcome which the staid Britishers themselves admit has greatly touched them.

The most elaborate precautions have been taken for the safety of the visitors. Secretary Balfour and the members of his personal suite are quartered in the residence of Third Assistant Secretary of State Breckinridge Long. A ring of steel encircles the house, troopers from the Second Cavalry are on guard night and day and no one is allowed inside the grounds unless they have the necessary credentials. In addition a small army of secret-service men and members of the Washington police force assist in the duty of seeing that no untoward incident disturbs the guests of the nation.

Similar precautions are taken at the down town hotel where sixty rooms have been set aside for the guests.

GRAND VIEW INN OPENS MAY 30

The Grand View Inn at Rifton, which was opened for a short time last year, will be thrown open on Memorial Day for inspection and will remain open for about a week. The inn will open for the season June 15. The building is fully equipped as a hotel and will also have bowling alleys, a billiard room and a barbershop, and on the grounds will have a baseball diamond, a tennis court and a basketball court.

The town board of Esopus has set aside $1,000 for the improvement of the road leading past the hotel and work is now in progress. The hotel is located between St. Remy and Rifton, a short distance from the state road which is known as the powder mill road which runs from the state road to Union Center.

The hotel is reached by rail from Ulster Park, and by boat from this city. An auto line will also run from this city to the hotel.

J. O. U. A. M. Will Attend. Charles DeWitt Council, No. 91, Junior Order United American Mechanics, has accepted an invitation to be present at the big patriotic rally to be held in the high school on Wednesday evening, April 25. All members are requested to meet at the lodge rooms at 7:30 o'clock and march from there to the high school in a body where seats will be reserved. Every member should show this patriotism and loyalty to the flag and country and turn out strong on Wednesday evening.

Waters Complaint Withdrawn. Frank Waters, Jr., was discharged Saturday afternoon when arraigned before Recorder Lang in recorder's court as the corporation counsel withdrew the complaint lodged against Waters by the police. Mr. Waters was arrested on a charge of using glaring headlights on the New York pavement. The arrest was made by Officer O'Neil.

Soldiers Appreciated. The following is an extract from the New York Times: "If the National Guard of the country is to be judged for the gentleness of its members, from the members of the Tenth New York Infantry stationed here, we Americans should feel proud of our soldiers. The Tenth Infantry, men, officers and private, have proven that a man can be both a soldier and a gentleman, and the people of New York will not soon forget this combination of qualities."

POLICE AID GET-RICH-QUICK PLAN

That Is They Do It Unknowingly—Every One Should Learn How to Make Hundreds of Dollars by Being a Correspondent—Cost $5 Only.

That chiefs of police are being invoked to aid a get-rich-quick scheme has been brought to light by activities of the National Press Bureau of Buffalo who will teach any one—having a five dollar bill to spare—how to become a newspaper correspondent, and earn at least $100 a month extra sending news to out of town newspapers.

The chief of police is brought into the scheme by the Bureau sending him a postcard reading in part as follows: "Do you know a live young newspaper reporter in your town who would like to earn a good income in spare time corresponding for outside newspapers?" It then goes on to state that the Bureau would appreciate the favor if the chief would hand the card to the aforesaid bright young reporter for which the Bureau thanks the chief and closes with the following: "Thanking you, and trusting we may be able to reciprocate, we are, etc."

The Bureau does not state that it will divide the five spot the future correspondent will send them, with the chief. Nay, nay that would never do.

After the chief of police has selected a bright young reporter, and handed him the postcard the drama of riches moves on to the next scene which shows the bright young reporter busily darning a reply to the postcard and mailing it to the Bureau.

At this point the curtain drops for a few days to give the card a chance to reach the Bureau. The next scene in this play shows the card being read by the Bureau and a close up shows that literature is being prepared to send to the aforesaid bright young man.

The next scene shows the bright young reporter receiving the literature, and opening it with trembling hands. A close up should be shown of the trembling hands. A close up should also be shown of the proposition of the Bureau literature explaining how the bright young man can increase his income to $100 a month, and maybe more—it does not say anything about less. The first step is to send on $5 for the instructions.

From the literature sent the bright young man the following gems are taken: "Any intelligent person with a taste or talent for journalism should earn a splendid income corresponding for newspapers." (The word "should" ought to be in capital letters, but is not.)

This gem interests newspapermen. Journalism is the easiest profession in the world to learn, and newspaper correspondence is the easiest branch of journalism. It is also the most profitable for the beginner, because highly developed literary talent is not required of the man or woman who writes news for a newspaper."

It might be added here that the would be correspondent after he has sent the $5 will also receive a card of credentials from the Bureau stating that he is a newspaper correspondent and recommending that "the usual courtesies" be extended to the correspondent. There is no extra charge for this card, and it is a "convenient thing to have."

With the present high cost of living the National Press Bureau offers a fine field for any one desiring to add some money to their income to enable them to have an egg extra for breakfast and eat real butter instead of a substitute, and undoubtedly there will be a big rush of mail to the Bureau from young men and women who hasten to avail themselves of this glittering opportunity.

It might be added in closing that this "invaluable course" formerly cost but $2 but on account of the high cost of paper has been advanced to $5.

DOES PATRIOTISM PAY?

Wager Your Foundation Dollar That It Does on Flags.

With the declaration of war, the president requested all the citizens of the country to demonstrate their patriotism. No class responded more promptly than did the dealers in flags, who immediately raised the price of all American and foreign flags five hundred per cent, with the result that foreign flags at once went out of the market. Judge Clearwater, determined to have the colors of the twelve allied nations for the patriotic mass meeting on Wednesday night, was compelled to telephone to Montreal to procure the flags of Great Britain and of France, which have arrived.

Soldiers Appreciated.

ESOPUS FOLK FOR MOBILIZING FARMS

Many Sound Reasons Advanced at Saturday Night's Meeting for Co-operation to Solve Problems of Crisis—Some Sensible Addresses Which Hit the Mark.

Nearly 200 persons were in attendance at the Farmers' Mobilization meeting of the town of Esopus held in I. O. O. F. Hall at Ulster Park Saturday evening, called pursuant to the proclamations of President Wilson and Governor Whitman, and listened attentively to the addresses, a number taking part in the discussion that followed. After hearing the purpose and necessity of the farm census explained, the meeting enthusiastically adopted a resolution endorsing the work and a number of those present volunteered to aid by using their automobiles or horses for the purpose of taking the teachers around their respective districts.

John Herring, the town chairman, presided and stated in his opening address that when summoned to the emergency conference in Kingston by Manager Hook he thought it was nonsense and the farmers could best help their country by remaining at work on their farms. But he obeyed the summons because Manager Hook spoke as though he expected obedience and very soon after the conference had opened it became very plain that the time was not being wasted. "In fact," said Mr. Herring, "the conference was so important and interesting that I missed both trains and had to beg a ride home."

Addresses were made commending the spirit of obedience shown by Mr. Herring, a spirit in which the American people are daily lacking, and setting forth the enormity of the crisis confronting the nation and the world by reason of war increasing demand and diminishing production while extraordinary crop shortages had made more acute the condition. The failure of people generally to appreciate the danger of food shortages was emphasized by the Rev. Mr. Van Oostenbrugge and other speakers, while Mr. Dumond spoke forcefully and to the point of the need for greater economy in the home and the utilizing of surplus vegetables by home canning.

The Rev. C. H. Tollemus said that while each farmer should specialize on the crop his land was best adapted to, he should not forget to at least supply his own table with either food, such as poultry or food, and eggs. The children should be mobilized and the farm garden be made more productive. The present emergency had raised the farmer to a new recognition and from being regarded as a poor, groveling creature he was now considered a lord of creation. It would be a good thing for the school pupils to get out and work, to mobilize with the shovel and hoe. It would be good to leave out some of the useless studies, the only excuse for which was that they sharpen the brain. It is folly to spend years in sharpening an axe and then never use it. Clergymen should realize that it was not necessary for them to never appear except in a long black coat and a stovepipe hat and that it is good to soil one's hands by real toil. It will be a good thing for a great many people if they have to experience hardship. Starvation may bring them to their senses and teach them to at least respect those who work.

A general discussion of the labor and marketing problems, in which Judge Hunan, William C. Schryver, L. M. Hurnhouse, Leslie Herring, Mr. Dumond and others took part, disclosed the fact that the movement to supply high school boys for farm work was not very likely regarded. The general sentiment was that to place inexperienced boys on a farm would be of little benefit in anybody, as farm work requires training as well as good intentions and an inexperienced boy might easily do far more damage than could be compensated for by his entire season's work.

After everybody had told his tale of woe regarding marketing conditions without offering a solution of the difficulty, ex-Superior George E. House made the speech of the evening in one sentence: "The answer to all this is for the farmers to co-operate."

Cries of "You've said it," greeted this remark, but whether anybody will act on what all conceded to be true remains to be seen.

Mahar Sent to Camp.

Thomas Mahar was arrested on Saturday by Officer Schloft on the complaint of Dr. F. A. Johnston, health officer, and when arraigned before Recorder Lang was committed to the tuberculosis camp. Some time ago Mahar while at the tuberculosis camp created a disturbance and was charged he went to Resendin and applied for aid, but the authorities there took him to the county home and he was later delivered to Superintendent Edmondson at the city home. As he is tubercular it was not desired to have him there and he was again committed to the camp.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS JOIN FARM CORPS

Several Hundred Kingston Students Make Application to Wield the Hoe as Service for Uncle Sam—Regents' Counts in Field.

The back-to-the-farm-for-Uncle Sam movement was given a hearty endorsement by several hundred high school boys Friday afternoon when they applied for application papers to join the farm cadet corps of New York state. If they receive the consent of their parents they will leave their school work for the hoe within a few weeks, the State Department of Education at Albany having announced that members of the corps will be given full credit for the term's work and seniors their diplomas without being required to take the Regents' examinations in June, providing their employers certify that they have performed satisfactory work in the field.

The New York educational system is one of the strictest in the country and a realization of the gravity of the food situation caused the move, only after careful consideration. It is not clear how long the student-farmers must serve in the field before being given school credit, but that and other matters will be explained at Monday's meeting at the school by a member of the department.

The application papers given the boys are to be signed by their parents and returned on Monday, thereby affording a census of the farm recruits in the school. The candidates signify on the applications the class of farm work they prefer, whether general work or gardening; the experience they have had; and whether or not they would be willing to work in any other than their home county.

All students, no matter in what service they enlist, the army or navy, agricultural or industrial work, will be credited with the work of the present term, if that work has been satisfactory. Candidates for college entrance diplomas who are members of the class of 1917 will be given their diplomas. The state scholarships will be computed from the Regents' marks of the past in the case of those enlisting. If he wishes, any student in service may take the Regents' examinations this June.

The regulations in regard to the present situation issued by President John H. Finley of the University of the State of New York are as follows:

To meet the present national emergency, the New York State Education Department, after careful consideration, issues the following regulations concerning matters that vitally affect the interests of the pupils of the secondary schools of the state:

1. The June Regents' examinations will be given as previously announced for all pupils who remain regularly in school and also for pupils who may enlist for service and who wish to take the examinations and are situated so that they can do so. For the latter class the time requirement will be waived.

2. Announcement is made to all the schools of the state that any pupil who enlists for military service or who enlists for and renders satisfactory agricultural or industrial service will be credited with the work of the present term without examination on the certificate of the school that his work up to the time of enlistment is satisfactory.

3. Candidates for college entrance diplomas who are in the graduating class of 1917 will be granted the diploma on certificate of the principal that their work up to the time of enlistment is satisfactory. The average standing will be computed on the basis of the examinations already passed.

4. Appropriate certificates will be prepared to be issued to those pupils in the schools who shall enlist for agricultural or industrial service and who shall present satisfactory evidence of such service.

5. That all other questions regarding conditions affecting the 1918 high school class be held in abeyance to await developments.

It is believed that principals, teachers and pupils in all secondary schools of the state will appreciate the vital importance of prompt action in the present crisis and that each will esteem it a privilege to do his "bit" for the common good.

The number of youths anxious to join the farm corps was surprising. Mr. Moulton's call was made at a special assembly of the school Friday noon and at its close the lads crowded to obtain the blanks, the supply of which was soon exhausted. The baseball team will be broken up. If the plans of most of its members are carried out. Most of them prefer the farm service to spending the remaining eight weeks in school before Regents and a few intend to enlist for the army and navy. Several others about school intend to join the latter services within a short time.

Pride in the school's organizations, which have been sacrificing their interests for the national welfare, took another bound Friday upon Mr. Moulton's announcement that the Junior Audubon Society had donated $25 to the Red Cross.

HIGH FALLS.

High Falls, April 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ayers of The Clove took Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schoonmaker out for an auto ride the past Sunday.

Mrs. LeRoy Krom, who has been visiting in Poughkeepsie, returned home the first part of this week.

Mrs. Charles Hutchins and daughters, the Misses Mary and Dorothy, and Mrs. Reynolds and daughters, Sylvia and Faye, took dinner with the soldiers at Shaft five on Sunday.

Miss Esther Wager, who has been spending the winter at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Millard Roosa, has returned to her home in Rhinebeck.

Mrs. Thomas Snyder, who has the grip, is better at this time.

Mrs. and Mrs. George Grant were at Ellenville the past Sunday.

The farmers are starting in to do their spring farming.

The Misses Ora Belle Quick, Tillie Quick, Mary Quick and Anna Senesey were out walking on Sunday afternoon and found some trailing arbutus.

Mrs. John Cook and Miss Emma Hardenbergh of Rhinewater were in this place on Friday.

Irving Stokes of Ashokan has been home on a vacation.

Miss Carrie Slater spent Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Van Wageningen.

The Misses Ora Belle Quick, Tillie Quick and Kathryn Deane called at the home of Mrs. Anna Senesey on Sunday afternoon.

The Ladies' Missionary Society held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon. There were seven members present. The meeting opened with the singing of "Am I a Soldier of the Cross?" After this several led in prayer. The president selected a chapter from Isaiah which was read responsively. The topic for the meeting was India. Several very interesting papers were read on this subject.

As it was the annual meeting the officers were elected for the ensuing year. President, Mrs. Oscar Church; secretary, Mrs. J. M. Barnhart; treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Hewitt. The reports of the secretary and treasurer for the year ending April 1, 1917, were read. $161 was raised the past year which is a larger amount than has been raised for some time. There was, however, no balance on hand for the coming year. Ways and means of raising money for the coming year are to be discussed at the next meeting and the members are all earnestly requested to bear this matter in mind and bring up any plan they may think suitable for discussion at this meeting. The meeting was brought to a close by the singing of the hymn entitled "Rescue the Perishing," after which the Lord's prayer was repeated in concert.

Mr. and Mrs. John Whalen spent one evening the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Quick.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schoonmaker are going to move into the house of J. M. Barnhart, formerly rented by William Williams. Leroy Krom and Allan Goetcheus have been doing some papering preparatory to their moving in.

Mrs. Gordon Reel, Mrs. Hickey and Mrs. Everett Fessenden of Kingston spoke in the Reformed Church on Monday afternoon of this week in connection with the Red Cross work. A society was organized at this meeting. The officers appointed were as follows: Chairman, Mrs. Charles Hutchins; vice president, Mrs. M. S. Davis; secretary, Mrs. Oscar Church; treasurer, Miss Cynthia Van Wageningen. The first meeting of the society was held on Friday afternoon, April 20, at 2:30, at the home of the chairman. There were about twelve present. A most enjoyable afternoon was spent, sewing on different articles to be utilized by the soldiers on the field. There were seven present who joined the Red Cross as annual members. There are six classes of memberships, privileges in all of them being alike except that annual members do not receive the Red Cross Magazine.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

1795.—A Practical and Easily Developed Outfit.

This combination includes a simple one-piece dress, a comfortable undershirt or petticoat and a piece of wash fabric. The dress is good for all wash fabrics, and also for serge and other woollens. In checked blue or dotted percale with braid trimming, it will make a very serviceable play dress. The undershirt is composed of a long-sleeved body to which a straight skirt is gathered. The drawers are simple, with side seams only, thus insuring ease and comfort in wearing. The pattern includes all three garments. It is cut in 5 sizes: 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 years. It requires 3/4 yard for the drawers, 1 1/2 yards for the undershirt, and 2 1/2 yards for the dress, of 36-inch material, for a 4-year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

SOME MEATLESS DISHES.

The use of cheese and various vegetable combinations with nuts and egg and milk mixtures will furnish sufficient fuel for a meatless diet, although we learn that any restriction in the diet is not advisable for any length of time, unless following a physician's orders.

As nuts are highly concentrated food, they need to be eaten sparingly, and above all things well masticated.

Mock Chicken Loaf.—Cook slowly two cups of hominy grits, add a teaspoonful of salt and three pints of water; cook until the hominy is soft, at least three hours. Butter a mold and line it with the hot hominy; pack it firmly around the sides. In the center put the following: Moisten a cupful of wholewheat bread crumbs, with two cups of hot milk, then add a half-cupful each of hickory nut meats and pecans, two tablespoonsful of melted butter, one teaspoonful of onion juice, mixed herbs and salt, a fourth of a teaspoonful of pepper, and two beaten eggs. Cover the top with a smooth layer of hominy. Place the mold in hot water and bake 30 minutes. Serve with nut sauce.

Bean Chops.—Soak a pint of dried beans or lentils overnight in cold water to cover; parboil and drain and cook in enough boiling water to cover until soft and broken, then rub through a sieve. To the pulp add two cups of strained tomato to which a little soda has been added; two tablespoonsful of melted butter or olive oil, one cupful of finely-crushed walnut meats, a little sage, one teaspoonful of salt, onion, parsley, finely mixed, a dash of pepper and one-half cupful of gluten flour; blend well and cook in a double boiler until thick, then add one well-beaten egg. Turn into a shallow dish and cool. When cold, form into chop shapes; place in a well-oiled dripping pan with butter or oil and brown in a quick oven. Have ready small pieces of macaroni and insert in to each chop. Decorate with a frill on each if so desired.

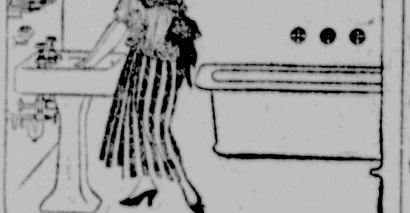

Cucumber and Nut Salad.—Pare and slice two cucumbers; let them lie in ice water for an hour. Serve with half a walnut meat on each slice and pass French dressing well seasoned.

BRITISH LAUNCH POWERFUL ATTACKS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, April 23.—The opening of the third week of the allies' offensive was marked by new and powerful attacks by the British on the Arras front.

Trescault was captured and the greater part of Havrincourt Wood was occupied by Field Marshal Haig's men.

The war office announced that the British began to attack at dawn on a front on both sides of the Scarpe river. Powerful blows were struck by the British between Arras and Douai.

South of the Bapaume-Cambrai road the British are now menacing Marconing as a result of the capture of Trescault.

Bloody fighting marked the struggle around Havrincourt Wood, which the Germans had strongly fortified. The British attacked it from three directions, forcing the Germans to retire toward the northeast.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Andrew Harkness, died at West Shokan on April 16, aged 79 years. He was a veteran of the Civil War, through which he served as a member of the old Twentieth Regiment. He leaves a widow, Maggie Ennist Harkness. The funeral was held on Thursday from the late home, with interment in West Shokan.

Word has been received in Kingston of the death of Thomas F. Cloonan at his home in Springfield, Mass. Mr. Cloonan was a former resident of this city and has many friends here. He was foreman at the Indian Motorcycle plant at Springfield. He is survived by his wife and several children and one sister, Miss Ella Cloonan of Brooklyn. Mr. Cloonan was an uncle of Mrs. Andrew J. Murphy of Adams street.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Edsall, born on Thursday, died at the home on Canal street, Ellenville, Sunday afternoon, of convulsions after a brief illness. The funeral service was from the home of Lewis N. Edsall on Center street, in charge of the Rev. Walter S. Maines, Sunday afternoon, and burial was in the family plot in Ellenville cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Edsall have the sympathy of their many friends.

The funeral of Miss Catherine Schussler, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schussler, which was held at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer on Wednesday afternoon, was very largely attended. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Mrs. LaTour sang "There is no Night." The bearers were George Plapp, Edgar Myers, Fred Ahlers and Frank Volk. Besides her parents, she leaves to mourn her loss, six sisters and three brothers.

Mrs. Lydia Tyrrell Merritt, wife of Joseph Merritt, died at her home on Canal street, Ellenville, Friday evening at 10 o'clock, after a long illness at the age of 84 years. Mrs. Merritt was the daughter of Isaac B. Tyrrell and Rhoda Jelliff, his wife, and was born at Wawarsing, N. Y., and when a young child, with her parents, moved to the town of Fallsburgh, Sullivan county, and resided nearly all her long life in that section, coming to Ellenville to reside ten years ago. Mrs. Merritt was a woman devoted to her home and family, who have done all that loving hands could do during the long period of her illness. Surviving are her husband, three daughters and one son, Mrs. Frank Davis, Mrs. Walter Peaker, Mrs. David A. Stratton and Martin F. Merritt, all of Ellenville. The funeral was held from her late home this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the services being in charge of the Rev. J. E. Appleby of the M. E. Church of which deceased was a member and the burial was in the family plot in Putnamkill cemetery.

GLASCO.

Glasco, April 23.—The United American Mechanics of Saugerties and Glasco attended the morning services at the Glasco M. E. Church on Sunday, an invitation having been extended to them by the pastor, the Rev. N. Hoes. There was a large attendance, besides sixty or more of the Mechanics, and it proved a fitting occasion to manifest a genuine, true blue spirit of loyalty to the U. S. A. Several large flags decorated the interior of the church and the services were interesting and profitable.

Church notices for the present week are as follows: Tuesday evening, a meeting of the Sunday school board at John W. Lent's. Wednesday evening a handkerchief social in the basement of the church. Thursday evening cottage prayer meeting at Mrs. Myers'. Friday evening an official board meeting at the parsonage.

L. S. Hommel has resigned his position in the office of the Washburn Brothers Company to take effect on May 1st or as soon as his successor may be engaged. After a clean record of thirty years of faithful service in a position of trust and responsibility at Washburns, Mr. Hommel retires with the good wishes of his employers and business associates, for a well-earned rest.

A WESTERN DRAMA.

Knight of St. John to Present Play Tonight.

This evening in St. Peter's School Hall on Adams street, St. Peter's Commandery, No. 317, Knights of St. John, will present the western drama "A Daughter of the Desert" in four acts. The play will also be repeated on Tuesday evening. This evening Knights from New York, Saugerties, Albany and Poughkeepsie will attend the show. Following the performance McLean's orchestra will furnish music for dancing. The cast is a capable one. The program in full was printed in Friday's Freeman.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association of School No. 1 will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the school.

The Parent-Teachers' Association of School No. 7 will not meet on Tuesday of this week. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, May 1.

The second of a series of dances will be given Thursday evening at Lake Katrine Grange Hall at the usual time and with the usual music in attendance.

The Clinton Guards will meet at the armory at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening and march in a body to the high school to participate in the patriotic meeting.

A meeting of the Nut Club will be held at Mrs. C. Ketterer's, 327 Broadway, Tuesday at 2 p. m. All members are urged to be present as important business will be transacted.

There will be a meeting at St. Mary's Hall tonight at 8 o'clock sharp for all young ladies of the Blessed Virgin's Society who are taking part in the entertainment. A full attendance is requested.

The pupils of the B Sharp Class of Miss Sophie Schmidtkonz gave a recital on Saturday afternoon. All numbers were well rendered by the young musicians and it proved to be quite a treat for their parents and friends.

The Ladies' Aid of Clinton Avenue M. E. Church will hold a veal pie supper in the Sunday school room on Friday evening, April 27, from 5 o'clock. Mrs. Kieffer will be in charge. All are cordially invited to attend this supper.

A Rattiana rug display in one of Gregory & Company's show windows is attracting the interest of home-seekers and others who pass that store. The ingenious manner in which the rugs are arranged is the subject of admiration and flattering comment.

The Lake Katrine Dramatic Club will give a play entitled, "Peleg and Peter," on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at Stone Ridge Grange Hall. The play has been given at Lake Katrine Grange Hall at the Odd Fellows' Hall, Ulster Park, being well received by both audiences. The proceeds will be divided between the Stone Ridge Grange and the Dramatic Club. Dancing will follow the play.

PRIZES FOR GARDENS.

Business Men Asked to Aid in Furnishing Incentive.

The following letter has been sent to organizations of business men:

April 21st, 1917.
Kingston, New York.

Dear Sir:—The committee in charge of the patriotic movement for the promotion of vegetable gardens in the back yards and vacant lots of our city—composed of representatives of the Garden Club, schools, Parent-Teachers' Associations and Chamber of Commerce—request the co-operation of Kingston merchants in arranging for a series of prizes, either money or goods, to be offered at this time to stimulate interest in the planting of vegetables. It is suggested that general prizes be offered for the best gardens and special prizes for specific results such, for example, as the best quality of potatoes, corn, beans, etc., and the largest quantity of the same produced in a given area.

The committee will appreciate your kindness in taking up this matter with the other merchants in your section of the city with a view to securing their co-operation in this important movement.

Very truly yours,
J. E. CANFIELD, Secy.

JECKLM

ST. REMY.

The fish and vegetable peddlers have started through this place, which makes it convenient for the housewives.

Charles York and family were guests of Earl Roosa and family on Sunday.

Activity at Naval Base.

Amsterdam, April 23.—Great activity prevails at the German naval base at Zeebrugge. Frontier duties confirm earlier reports that the fleet of German destroyers which raided the British coast at Dover, came from Zeebrugge. There were eight vessels of the latest type in the fleet. Two of the destroyers put back in port badly damaged and with many wounded on board.

Turkey Severs Relations.

Washington, April 23.—The Turkish government has formally broken relations with the United States, the state department was officially informed today. The message came from Minister Stovall, at Bern, Switzerland.

German Transports in Baltic.

Copenhagen, April 23.—A German transport fleet has been sighted in the Baltic, says a despatch from Petrograd today. It added that there is great activity on the part of the Germans around Riga.

A COURT MARTIAL AT COURT HOUSE

Two Albany Militiamen Arraigned Before Military Authorities as Result of Trouble at Rosendale.

Francis J. Gallagher and Daniel J. Nelson, the Company C guardsmen who got in trouble with a civilian at a Rosendale hotel one evening last week, were arraigned this afternoon at the court house before a court martial, the court consisting of Captain Wheelock, Lieutenant Colonel Saulpaugh and Major Purdy. Percy W. Decker of Catskill appeared as judge advocate.

Gallagher is charged with assault and Nelson with absenting himself without leave. Amos Van Etten appeared for Gallagher. Nelson asked that an officer be assigned as his counsel. Both hearings were adjourned until tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

SOCIETY NOTES.

DuBois-Miller.

Miss Cora Miller, daughter of Mrs. F. Miller of Wawarsing, and Lewis DuBois of this city, were quietly married Sunday evening at the parsonage of the Church of the Comforter by the Rev. W. F. Stove. The bride was beautifully gowned in blue tulle silk with a hat to match and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. She was attended by Miss Myrtle DuBois, a sister of the groom, who wore citron colored silk and carried a bouquet of pease. James S. McAndrew of this city, acted as best man. Following the ceremony and congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. DuBois left in an automobile for the groom's home on Cedar street where an elaborate wedding dinner was served. The bridal table was prettily decorated with carnations and roses. The groom, who is a well known motorman, has a host of friends who join in wishing the couple a long and prosperous wedded life. Mr. and Mrs. DuBois will make their home in Kingston.

ALLIGERVILLE.

Alligerville, April 23.—A meeting in the interest of the Red Cross Society was held at the home of Mrs. H. R. DeVitt on Thursday, April 19. Nine ladies responded to the call, among them Mrs. Russell Trowbridge, Mrs. William Degraw and Mrs. Henry Nef of Kyserike. Mrs. DeVitt was chosen chairman. Mrs. Jeremiah Young, treasurer and Miss Cornelia Lounsbury, secretary. The ladies did all the work assigned them by the town of Rochester unit and will meet on Thursday, April 26, at Mrs. William Degraw's, Kyserike. All persons interested in the vicinity are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Jennie Hasbrouck of Hurley is employed by Mrs. James Wiley. Mrs. Jeremiah Young, Mrs. William Brady, Mrs. Joseph Evans and Mrs. Harry Parker attended the funeral of Ambrose Krom at Rock Hill on Saturday.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, April 23.—Business in nearly all the unusually active issues was of a purely professional character for the greater part of the forenoon. The widest movement was in Ohio Cakes Gas, which dropped 4 1/2 points to 131, from which it rallied to above 133. Industrial Alcohol sold down to 101 1/4, moved up to 103 1/4, and then yielded again to 102 1/4. Steel Common moved up 1/2 at the opening to 111 1/2, reacted to 110 1/2, and rose again to 111 1/2. Similar recessions and rallies were frequent all through the list, with the majority of issues ranging under Saturday's final prices at the end of the first hour.

There was a show of strength in the stock market early in the afternoon and vigorous advances were made in issues, but before the beginning of the last hour recessions were again in order. Steel Common sold at 112. The copper stocks generally were heavy after a sharp rally.

The final tone was firm. Covering of shorts caused another rally in the last hour, with some specialties advancing about 2 points. Industrial Alcohol rose to 106 and Atlantic Gulf and West Indies to above 96. Steel Common closed a fraction higher. The Marine issues were weak in the late trading the preferred selling down to 76 1/2. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds irregular.

Quotations furnished by John D. Klinge Warren Building, Fair street, Kingston, N. Y., Tel. 1423. Correspondent of C. H. Van Buren & Company, member of Consolidated Stock Exchange of New York.

SEAGER.

Seager, April 23.—Claude Green has been awarded the contract to carry the mail from Arkville to this place for the succeeding four years, beginning July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel and George Gould, Jr., spent from Friday until Sunday at Eagle Lodge. They came and returned by auto.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gould are spending a few days at Forge Cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Niles Fairbairn attended the movies at Margaretville Saturday evening.

The monthly business meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held Thursday p. m., April 26, at the home of Mrs. Nelson Graham. The roll call will be Messages of Spring.

Sunday school opened Sunday with a good attendance.

Little Changed.

Feminine nature, as good luck would have it, has not changed very much since the world began, and we suppose good old Ceres used to fix herself up in clothes as nervy as possible like those worn by Diana and fondly imagine that she was preserving the youthful lines of her figure.—Columbus (O.) Journal.

Proud of Father.

"Yes," said the young wife, proudly, "father always gives something expensive when he makes presents." "So I discovered when he gave you away," rejoined the young husband. And with a large, open-faced sigh he continued to audit the monthly bills of his better half.—Stray Stories.

TRENCH RAILWAY.

SECRET OF THE RAPID ALLIED ADVANCE.

This picture tells the secret of the astonishingly rapid advance of the Allies on the heels of the retreating Germans in France. Hundreds of such tiny railways as this were constructed immediately behind the first line of advancing Allied troops, on which supplies and light artillery were rushed to the front. The light artillery sufficed to hold the recaptured positions until the heavy artillery could be brought up later.

Great Egg District.

The eggs produced in Petaluma, Cal., district and shipped to market or hatched by the hatcheries amount to fifteen or sixteen million dozen a year, worth probably $4,000,000.

Wasting Gas.

Experts tell us that it is a waste of gas to allow the flames to blaze up the sides of a kettle or a soappan. This does not cause the contents to boil any more quickly.

To Be Good Patriot.

KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 23, 1917.

A fine illustration of the spirit prevailing in our schools is given in the action of the Junior Class of the High School, which voted to cut out its journey to Washington next Spring and to turn over the $1,200 they set out to raise for their own enjoyment to the Red Cross for use as that organization may see fit. It was a splendid thing to do and the members of the class are to be congratulated at the self-sacrifice they have exhibited. The same holds true of the young men students who propose to volunteer their efforts to fill in the gaps in the ranks of farm labor. This experience will be no picnic, but we do not believe that the Kingston volunteers are indulging in any false notions as to the ease of life on the farm in the early Summer and through harvest time. It is hard work and lots of it and several days will be required before even muscles familiar with the demands of the gymnasium and the baseball diamond become used to the various forms of manual labor called into play on the farm. That the experience will prove useful there can be no doubt. Allowance of Regents' counts for satisfactory work in the field strikes us as a most sensible proposition, in entire keeping with the exigencies of the situation.

Self-denial is the lesson that we all must learn with war, that stern old taskmaster, as the instructor. At this stage, foodstuffs are manifesting a consistently upward tendency and the National appetite is being urged away from wheat products to corn and rice, while a proper emphasis is being placed upon the humble dandelion and other greens and their nutritive value. While the Government bulletins have seen fit to neglect advocating last year's straw hat either for food or raiment, the latter severe test for human vanity may be in order. A uniform dress for women, consisting of a shirtwaist and plain skirt of dark blue, is another of the ideas which have been inundating the country since the time of the new talk on war conservation. Husbands would rise up and bless the originator of this last named garb once the women of the country tell for it. It is a healthy indication, all this discussion of ways and means to meet a food shortage and so manage that military requirements shall not exhaust the resources of the country. The country is actually beginning to think, and the value of all this agitation, even though much of it may not be based on common sense, is not to be under-estimated.

A great mass meeting is set for Wednesday evening at the High School Auditorium, and Kingston may be depended upon to furnish its full quota of listeners to the message of the hour to be given by the competent speakers, men of prominence in the Nation and State, who are scheduled to be present. An outpouring of folk such as the Colonial City has not witnessed in years seems assured for this demonstration. With the known capacity of the speakers on the program, we feel sure that due stress will be laid upon the need for useful action by individual citizens and upon the fact that Ulster County now has the opportunity for service in the taking of the Farm and Military Censuses, the first of which is already in process and the second in the organization stage for operation next month. Patriotic oratory is useful only in so far as it inspires patriotic organization and labor. Definite admonitions as to how the country may best be served at this critical juncture in its history will, we feel confident, be given with emphatic force.

According to the president of the Master Bakers' Association, there is an average waste of two and a half loaves of bread a year for each man, woman and child in this country, or 250,000,000 loaves of the value of $12,500,000. "Before we talk of bread tickets and other European arrangements," he says, "let us at least eat up the bread we have instead of feeding it to the hogs and chickens." Where the hogs and chickens really get it, as they may on most of the farms, the waste is not complete, but in many towns and cities, instead of such useful disposal of garbage, there is absolute destruction.

Amazing headlines announcing "dry" New York city from the first of May for the period of the war are followed by the explanation that the dryness is decreed only for the small hours of the morning after one o'clock. The New York newspapers gravely discuss their city's self-restraint and the patriotic "example" it has set in this willingness to stop quizzing and go "sedately to bed" at one o'clock while the war lasts, but the great part of the country that goes sedately to bed from nine to eleven o'clock even in times of peace is apt to be moved to irreverent mirth as it reads of the boasted reform.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Time is money," said the bore. "Yes," sighed the troubled man, "and I wish you'd go somewhere else to spend yours."—Detroit Free Press.

Mrs. Gramercy—"Why don't you tell that neighbor of yours?" Mrs. Park—"It isn't necessary, my dear. We're on the same party wire."—Puck.

Doctor—"My dear sir, you must give your wife some considerable change at once." Husband—"Can't do it, doctor; you've got it all."—Baltimore American.

"The people on that farm are very hospitable. They will take anybody in." "I know they will. We boarded with them last summer."—Baltimore American.

"How's your motor car behaving?" "Well," replied Mr. Chuggins, "the way it uses gasoline shows that while it may be weak in spots, its appetite is all right."—Washington Star.

"Why did you give that awful-looking tramp a dime?" "Oh, merely as a small contribution towards city improvement. He wanted it for carfare to the next town."—Boston Transcript.

Undeserving.

Once the master of a steamer, while loading at a Scotch port, took on two hands—one without a written "character" and another with an abundance of documentary evidence as to his honesty and uprightness. They had not been long at sea when they encountered rough weather, and the man with the written recommendations, while crossing the deck with a bucket in his hand, was swept overboard. The other hand saw what had happened and sought the captain.

"Do you remember the man from Dundee," he asked, "that you engaged with the fine character?" "Yes," said the captain. "What of it?"

"Well, he's run away with your bucket."—New York Times.

Making Himself at Home.

Doris was radiant over a recent addition to the family and rushed out of the house to tell the news to a passing neighbor.

"Oh, you don't know what we've got upstairs."

"What is it?" the neighbor asked.

"A new baby brother," said Doris and she watched very closely the effect of her announcement.

"You don't say so," the neighbor exclaimed. "Is he going to stay?"

"I think so," said Doris. "He's got his things off."—New York Times.

The Usual Program.

Punch once had a scene in which a district visitor is shown entering the cottage of a poor woman. The visitor is evidently new to the business and somewhat embarrassed. The cottager says to her: "I ain't seed you afore. Y're fresh at it, ain't yer, miss?"

"I have never visited you before, Mrs. Johnson."

The woman dusts a chair. "Well," she says, "yer sits down here an' yer reads me a short psalm, yer gives me a shillin', and then yer goes!"—Punch.

Unlucky Answer.

Her husband had just come home and had his first meeting with the new nurse, who was remarkably pretty.

"She is sensible and scientific," urged the fond mother, "and says she will allow no one to kiss baby while she is near."

"No one would want to," replied the husband, "while she is near."

HOSPITAL VISITED BY FIVE HUNDRED

Inspection by Public Saturday Afternoon Proved a Great Success—Managers, Auxiliary, Nurses Alumni and Medical and Nursing Staffs Greet Visitors.

Nearly 500 people availed themselves of the invitation to see Kingston City Hospital and its complete addition Saturday afternoon, the inspection to many of them in the nature of a discovery as to extent and usefulness of modern institution adjoining city hall heights on Broadway.

The visitors were received by Judge James A. Betts, president of the board of managers, Mrs. George F. Chandler president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and Miss Ryan, superintendent of the hospital. The corridors were decorated with palms and American flags and the visitors passed through the main corridor to the new building. Unfortunately, most of the private rooms were occupied and their interiors could not be exhibited. Two were open, however, with the rest of the building.

The doctors of the hospital staff were present and acted as guides. Members of the auxiliary and of the Nurses' Alumni Association were stationed throughout the building to show people around and explain the uses of the various rooms, and the details of the thoroughly modern equipment. Pupil nurses in uniforms and caps gave demonstrations.

The hospital has already been described in these columns and its equipment, management and standing are a source of satisfaction to the people of the city. Surprise was manifested by all of the visitors at the size of the building and the perfection of the plant which stands high among the hospitals of cities this size throughout the state.

How Spinsters Got Their Name.

From the early ninth century to the end of the middle of the nineteenth century, spinning was the chief occupation of woman. A young woman was called spinster because she spun. If she became married she did, as a matter of course, take her married title, but if she remained unmarried she continued to be called spinster. From this has the name spinster survived for the torment and pleasure of old maids today.

Ancient Chinese Used Compass.

As early as 2634 before Christ the compass was known in a crude way to the Chinese and it was used by them for purposes of navigation as early as the third century of the Christian era. But the policy of the rulers and the habits and character of the people conspired to render the Chinese indifferent to the compass and it did not become of the great importance to them that it did to the seafaring nations of Europe.

PATRIOTIC RALLY AT HIGH SCHOOL

National Colors of Twelve Allied Nations to be Represented by Senior Class Girls—Principal Address by Dr. Prentice—Organizations to Attend.

Arrangements have been completed for the great patriotic mass meeting to be held at the High School on the evening of Wednesday the 25th instant. Judge Clearwater, President of the National Security League, will preside. Addresses will be made by Judge Hasbrouck, President of the Home Defense Committee; Dr. Sartell Prentice, Dean Hickey; Dr. Thomas H. Baragwanath, Pastor of St. James; Admiral Higginson and Judge Jenkins. The principal address will be by Dr. Prentice, who has traveled extensively abroad, and is entirely familiar with the condition of the European war. He is as well a distinguished archeologist, who married the daughter of the late Judge Aaron J. VanderPool of Kinderhook, who at one time resided in Kingston.

Invitation have been extended to the congregations of every church, and the pastor of each one of them has been invited to read upon the platform. Other invitations are to the mayor, common council and city officers; the county officers, members of all the military, patriotic, benevolent and other organizations of the city. The members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the members of Co. M, the Spanish war veterans, the Old Guard, the Boy Scouts, the Clinton Guards and the Public School Cadets will meet at the Armory, and preceded by a file and drum corps will march to the High School in a body, where patriotic airs will be rendered by the Colonial City band.

A unique, picturesque and interesting feature of the evening will be the representation of the twelve allied Nations, the United States, France, Great Britain, Belgium, Italy, Russia, Japan, Serbia, Brazil, Portugal, Panama and Cuba, by girls of the senior class of the high school, who will appear upon the platform with the national flag of each of those countries. When that of the United States appears the band will play the Star Spangled Banner, and the audience will join in singing the national anthem.

The Daughters of the American Revolution will attend in a body. Mrs. Philip Elting, regent, Captain Meagher and Sergeant Fitzgerald will have charge of the decoration of the auditorium. The Grand Army of the Republic will be under the command of Major James H. Everett, the Old Guard under that of John G. Van Etten, Company M under Captain Meagher, Spanish War Veterans under Captain William G. Merritt, the various divisions of the Boy Scouts, Clinton Guards and Public School Cadets under the command of Captain Everett Fowler and Charles A. Warren. The Knights of Columbus will attend in uniform under the command of E. F. Flanagan, grand knight.

A corps of twelve ushers of the members of the National Security League under the leadership of Roger H. Loughran, secretary of that organization, will have charge of seating the audience, and all organizations which intend to attend the meeting in a body are requested immediately to report to Mr. Loughran the number of members by which they will be represented, in order that seats may be reserved for them.

CASHIER'S WINDOW OPEN.

Farmers May Now Step Up And Get Your Money.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Utica, April 23.—Marc W. Cole, superintendent of co-operation in the department of agriculture, today opened headquarters in this city for the distribution of the ten million dollars state loan fund to farmers as an incentive to increased crop production during the war.

Just at present the money will be given out in sums not larger than $150 at a rate of 4½ per cent interest. Circulars in regard to the loan have already been sent out to 300 Grange loan committees of the state and 200 banks in various parts of the state will help in the distribution of the money.

Reception to Bishop Postponed.

Owing to the inability of Suffragan Bishop Burch of the Diocese of New York to reach Kingston on Sunday for the regular Episcopal visitation, the reception which was to have been tendered to him by the three Episcopal parishes in this city, Holy Spirit, Holy Cross and St. John's, at Holy Cross parish house this evening, will be indefinitely postponed. Because of the illness of Bishop Greer of New York, Bishop Burch was obliged to delegate Bishop Hiram A. Hulise of Cuba to confirm the various classes in Kingston on Sunday. Bishop Burch expects to be able to reach Kingston in time for the big laymen's dinner of the men of the archdiocese to be given at Hotel Suyvesant on Thursday evening of this week.

Ulster Garden Club to Attend.

The members of the Ulster Garden Club have been invited to attend the patriotic mass meeting to be held under the auspices of the Kingston Branch of the National Security League and the Home Defense Committee at the auditorium of the high school on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to attend and are asked to meet in the corridors of the high school at 7:45 o'clock, promptly, in order that they may attend in a body.

ULSTER TOWNSHIP HOLDS A MEETING

Discussion of Crops Best Suited for This Season and World Crisis Brings Out a Wealth of Opinion at Lake Katrine Grange Hall.

A township meeting was held in the Grange Hall, Lake Katrine, on Saturday, April 21, pursuant to the call of Governor Whitman, requesting the observance of this date as Agricultural Mobilization Day.

The chairman, David Kieffer, called the meeting to order promptly at 8 o'clock and requested the election of a secretary. William True-man was duly elected and the chairman then read the governor's proclamation and the report of the agricultural conference at Syracuse.

Bulletin No. 1 of the patriotic agricultural service committee was then introduced and as it contained a number of questions, these were taken up by those present and discussed at some length, and this brought out some most interesting and illuminating facts. One of the questions was: "Would it be advisable to hold over the present surplus of hay?" The answer came quick and sharp: "We would have to as there is no market for it."

Another question was "How much are we justified in increasing acreage of the following crops," potatoes, cabbage, canning crops and other truck or garden crops. It would have been of great benefit to a number of the advisors of the farmer to have been present to hear the discussion following this question. It was pointed out that it would take about sixty dollars worth of seed potatoes to plant an acre, add to this fertilizer, spraying materials and labor and the cost of the crop per acre is too high for the farmer to take risk on it to any great extent. It being very uncertain as to whether he would secure a crop after all his efforts. Cabbage was held to be less expensive but far more uncertain. Canning crops were looked on with favor provided there was a cannery, but in the absence of one, it was a good thing to let alone.

In regard to truck and other garden crops, it was pointed out that with fifteen or twenty peddlers on every street in Kingston, and no market to which to take his produce and with every organization in the city urging people to plow up their lawns and golf links to grow vegetables "to keep down the price," the prospect for the farmer for extending his acreage was not encouraging.

Resolutions Passed.

Resolutions were adopted pledging all present individually and collectively to produce all the food-stuffs possible this season and as long as the war lasts, emphasizing the importance of the question of distribution and urging the government to make proper appropriations to enable the commissioner of foods and markets to go ahead with the work as originally intended. The resolutions further state that the farmers have never failed in being patriotic and resented any insinuation that it was now necessary to urge them to greater production in this manner, that those who stand between the producer and the consumer are taking a toll twice as large as the producer receives for all his labor and risks, that our politicians are doing their utmost to protect these middlemen in their unfair monopoly and are making use of the present crisis to create a huge political machine in the state, the resolutions concluding with a call to the governor to put the commissioner of foods and markets in a position to care for the produce the farmers are urged to raise and reserve his appeals to patriotism for the politicians and middlemen who have so long fattened at the expense of the farmer.

BRITISH LAUNCH POWERFUL ATTACKS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, April 23.—The opening of the third week of the allies' offensive was marked by new and powerful attacks by the British on the Arras front.

Trescault was captured and the greater part of Havrincourt Wood was occupied by Field Marshal Haig's men.

The war office announced that the British began to attack at dawn on a wide front on both sides of the Scarpe river. Powerful blows were struck by the British between Arras and Douai.

South of the Bapaume-Cambrai road the British are now menacing Marquing as a result of the capture of Trescault.

Bloody fighting marked the struggle around Havrincourt Wood, which the Germans had strongly fortified. The British attacked it from three directions, forcing the Germans to retire toward the northeast.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Andrew Harkness died at West Shokan on April 16, aged 79 years. He was a veteran of the Civil War, through which he served as a member of the old Twentieth Regiment. He leaves a widow, Maggie Enlist Harkness. The funeral was held on Thursday from the late home, with interment in West Shokan.

Word has been received in Kingston of the death of Thomas F. Clouan at his home in Springfield, Mass. Mr. Clouan was a former resident of this city and has many friends here. He was foreman at the Indian Motor-plant at Springfield. He is survived by his wife and several children and one sister, Miss Ella Clouan of Brooklyn. Mr. Clouan was an uncle of Mrs. Andrew J. Murphy of Adams street.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Edsall, born on Thursday, died at the home on Canal street, Ellenville, Saturday afternoon, of convulsions, after a brief illness. The funeral service was from the home of Lewis N. Edsall on Center street, in charge of the Rev. Walter S. Maines, Sunday afternoon, and burial was in the family plot in Ellenville cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Edsall have the sympathy of their many friends.

The funeral of Miss Catherine Schussler, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schussler, which was held at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer on Wednesday afternoon, was very largely attended. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Mrs. LaTour sang "There is no Night." The bearers were George Plapp, Edgar Myers, Fred Ahlers, and Frank Volle. Besides her parents, she leaves to mourn her loss, six sisters and three brothers.

Miss Lillian Merritt, died at her home on Canal street, Ellenville, Friday evening at 10 o'clock, after a long illness at the age of 54 years. Mrs. Merritt was the daughter of Isaac E. Tyrrell and Rhoda Jelliff, his wife, and was born at Wawarsing, N. Y., and when a young child, with her parents, moved to the town of Fallsburgh, Sullivan county, and resided nearly all her long life in that section, coming to Ellenville to reside ten years ago. Mrs. Merritt was a woman devoted to her home and family, who have done all that loving hands could do during the long period of her illness. Surviving are her husband, three daughters and one son; Mrs. Frank Davis, Mrs. Walter Reaker, Mrs. David Stratton and Martin F. Merritt, all of Ellenville. The funeral was held from her late home this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the services being in charge of the Rev. J. E. Appleby of the M. E. Church of which deceased was a member and the burial was in the family plot in Monticelli cemetery.

GLASCO.

Glasco, April 23.—The United American Mechanics of Saugerties and Glasco attended the morning services at the Glasco M. E. Church on Sunday, an invitation having been extended to them by the pastor, the Rev. N. Hess. There was a large attendance, besides sixty or more of the Mechanics, and it proved a fitting occasion to manifest a genuine, true blue spirit of loyalty to the U. S. A. Several large flags decorated the interior of the church and the services were interesting and profitable.

Church notices for the present week are as follows: Tuesday evening, a meeting of the Sunday school board at John W. Lent's. Wednesday evening a handkerchief social in the basement of the church. Thursday evening cottage prayer meeting at Mrs. Myers'. Friday evening an official board meeting at the parsonage.

L. S. Hommel has resigned his position in the office of the Washburn Brothers Company to take effect on May 1st or as soon as his successor may be engaged. After a clean record of thirty years of faithful service in a position of trust and responsibility with Washburns, Mr. Hommel retires with the good wishes of his employers and business associates, for a well earned rest.

A Radcliff rug display in one of Gregory & Company's show windows is attracting the interest of home-keepers and others who pass that store. The ingenious manner in which the rugs are arranged is the subject of admiration and flattering comment.

The Lake Katrine Dramatic Club will give a play entitled, "Feleg and Peter," on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at Stone Ridge Grange Hall. The play has been given at Lake Katrine Grange Hall at the "Odd Fellows" Hall, Uister Park, being well received by both audiences. The proceeds will be divided between Stone Ridge Grange and the Dramatic Club. Dancing will follow the play.

PRIZES FOR GARDENS.

Business Men Asked to Aid in Furnishing Incentive.

The following letter has been sent to organizations of business men:

Kingston, New York, April 21st, 1917.

Dear Sir:—The committee in charge of the patriotic movement for the promotion of vegetable gardens in the back yards and vacant lots of our city, composed of representatives of the Garden Club, schools, Parent-Teachers' Associations and Chamber of Commerce—request the co-operation of Kingston merchants in arranging for a series of prizes, either money or goods, to be offered at this time to stimulate interest in the planting of vegetables. It is suggested that general prizes be offered for the best gardens and special prizes for specific results such, for example, as the best quality of potatoes, corn, beans, etc., and the largest quantity of the same produced in a given area.

The committee will appreciate your kindness in taking up this matter with the other merchants in your section of the city with a view to securing their co-operation in this important movement.

Very truly yours,
J. E. CANFIELD, Secy.

SOCIETY NOTES.

DuBois-Miller.

Miss Cora Miller, daughter of Mrs. E. Miller of Wawarsing and Lewis DuBois of this city, were quietly married Sunday evening at the residence of the Rev. W. F. Stowe. The bride was beautifully gowned in blue tulle silk with a hat to match and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. She was attended by Miss Myrtle DuBois, a sister of the groom, who wore a crown colored silk and carried a bouquet of peons. James S. McAndrew of this city, acted as best man. Following the ceremony and congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. DuBois left in an automobile for the groom's home on Cedar street where an elaborate wedding dinner was served. The bride's table was prettily decorated with carnations and roses. The groom, who is a well known motor man, has a host of friends who join in wishing the couple a long and prosperous wedded life. Mr. and Mrs. DuBois will make their home in Kingston.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, April 23.—Business in nearly all the unusually active issues was of a purely professional character for the greater part of the forenoon. The widest movement was in Ohio Cities Gas, which dropped 4 1/2 points to 131, from which it rallied to above 133. Industrial Alcohol sold down to 101 1/2, moved up to 103 1/2, and then yielded again to 102 1/2. Steel Common moved up 1/2 at the opening to 11 1/4, reacted to 11 1/2, and rose again to 11 3/4. Similar recessions and rallies were frequent all through the list, with the majority of issues ranging under Saturday's final prices at the end of the first hour.

There was a show of strength in the stock market early in the afternoon and vigorous advances were made in issues, but before the beginning of the last hour recessions were again in order. Steel Common sold at 11 1/2. The copper stocks generally were heavy after a sharp rally.

The final tone was firm. Covering of shorts caused another rally in the last hour, with some specialties advancing about 2 points. Industrial Alcohol rose to 106 and Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies to above 36. Steel Common closed a fraction higher. The Marine issues were weak in the late trading the preferred selling down to 76 1/2. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds irregular.

VAN AKEN MURDER TRIAL NOW IN PROGRESS

Case Opened to the Jury by District Attorney Traver and First Witness for the Prosecution Gives Testimony---Dr. Ross Describes the Conditions he Found When Called in.

The trial of Edwin Van Aken on the charge of murdering his wife, Carrie B. Van Aken, at their home at Port Ewen on October 22, 1914, was begun before Judge Hasbrouck and a jury in the supreme court this morning, when the first evidence in the case was presented to the jury.

District Attorney Traver opened the case to the jury in a twenty-five minute address, in which he outlined the surroundings at the Van Aken home preceding and on the day of the murder. District Attorney Traver began speaking at 10:04 o'clock and concluded at 10:29 o'clock, and immediately thereafter Dr. George W. Ross of Port Ewen was called by The People as the first witness.

In outlining the case to the jury, District Attorney Traver said: "The situation which presents itself in this case is an extremely grave and serious one. This is true because it not only involves the death of a human being but it is true also because the charge against the defendant is a most serious one and a charge which if proven involves the most severe penalty.

"Since by the nature of the case it is serious, we should approach its consideration with attentive and serious minds, minds free from bias and prejudice, minds imbued with a spirit of fairness to all, approach it courageously and with a fixed determination to do the right as we see the right regardless of the consequences.

"At the outset therefore, it would seem most important that we gain the right perspective and the proper point of view.

Individuals Not Involved.

"This is not in any sense a litigation between individuals. Nobody is attempting to obtain satisfaction against this defendant. Nobody is attempting to wreak vengeance on him for anything he may have done. This is a prosecution instituted by The People of the State of New York, based on an indictment found by a grand jury on evidence submitted to them under the laws of this state. It is not a case in which the deceased or any of her relatives are on trial; it is not a case in which the district attorney or his associates, or any of the counsel for the defendant are on trial; it is not a case in which any of the witnesses for the prosecution or the defense are on trial. Let us bear that in mind from the beginning to the end of this trial. There is only one charge involved in this case. It is a single charge, simply stated, and it is for you to determine whether it is true or false. You are to decide one question and that alone.

"There has been some talk here about reasonable doubt. It is not my function to explain the law on that subject; that is the function of the court; but it is proper for me to say at this time that throughout this entire case the burden rests on The People to prove the defendant guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. We know that it is our duty to just that, and nobody need try to impress on you that it is our duty, because we know it.

"There has been some comment regarding circumstantial evidence, and from that discussion you know already that you will be called on to act to some extent on circumstantial evidence. The defendant, if he committed this crime on October 22, 1914, committed it in private, not in public. If he committed it, he committed it in the back bedroom of his house, and no other person except himself saw the act, consequently we can produce no eyewitnesses, but we expect to prove by circumstantial evidence, and to corroborate it to your satisfaction beyond any reasonable doubt.

Will Have a Fair Trial.

"There has been a statement here also of a former trial, and one of the defendant's counsel has taken occasion to state that a former conviction was reversed by the Court of Appeals because the defendant didn't get a fair trial. In so far as that matter is concerned, we propose to give him a fair trial, but you have nothing to do with any decision of the Court of Appeals. You, gentlemen, are engaged in trying this case, and no other.

"In discussing the facts briefly, I propose to outline the main facts and let you get your first impression from the witnesses themselves, for that is the fairest way to all concerned.

"In fairness to the defendant and to The People, I want to take this occasion to remind you that what I say now is not evidence in this case. I merely state what we propose to prove and nothing more; that is not evidence.

"Throughout the trial many statements will be made by counsel on both sides, and I ask you now not to consider any such statements made by counsel as evidence, for they are not evidence.

Situation on Day of the Murder.

"It seems that for years prior to this homicide, this defendant and his wife resided on a farm in the town of Esopus, two miles south of Port Ewen. Three or four years before Mrs. Van Aken's death, the defendant and his wife sold their farm and bought a place in Port Ewen and lived there until the day of her death.

"Port Ewen is a small village, in the town of Esopus, one mile south of this city. The main street is called Broadway and it runs north and south. On and through this street the sort of verdict that each and every one of you have sworn to give." Dr. Ross, the first person to enter the Van Aken house after Edwin Van Aken had discovered his wife's body, was the first witness sworn by The People. Dr. Ross described in detail the condition of the body and the surroundings when he arrived at the Van Aken house after being summoned by telephone by Mr. Van Aken.

Dr. Ross arrived at his home on October 22, 1914, the day of the murder, shortly after two o'clock. He had been home but a few minutes when the telephone rang and some one asked for Dr. Ross.

To the question if this was Dr. Ross, he said it was, and was told to "come over to my house." When asked who it was talking he was told it was "Edwin Van Aken across the street." Dr. Ross immediately went over to the Van Aken house across the street, going around to the kitchen door where he was met by Mr. Van Aken.

"Something awful has happened, doctor, come up stairs," was the greeting from Mr. Van Aken when he arrived at the door.

On the way up stairs Mr. Van Aken told Dr. Ross that during his absence to Rondout someone had entered the house and broke open his desk down stairs and taken over $200 from a drawer there and gone. "When I came home I found the desk door open and the money gone and Mrs. Van Aken dead on the floor upstairs," said Mr. Van Aken on the way up the stairs.

He said he had left the house between 11:30 and 12 o'clock to go to Rondout for meat.

He also spoke of some of Mrs. Van Aken's jewelry being gone. Her watch and rings were gone and also a sum of church money which she had in the house he said he had been unable to find. He said the rear door had been locked when he went away and when he came home it was open. Dr. Ross testified that the lock on the rear door was a spring Yale lock which locked inside and the door was closed. As he passed through the kitchen on his way up stairs he saw some meat on the kitchen stove cooking.

During the time the two men were passing up stairs Mr. Van Aken told of his coming home and how he found things when he arrived at the house. When they arrived at the bed room on the second floor, Dr. Ross made an examination of Mrs. Van Aken and while he was doing this Mr. Van Aken stayed with him in the room.

When they had finished the examination and come down stairs they made an examination of the desk where the money was claimed to have been. The desk had been locked when Mr. Van Aken left for Rondout but he told Dr. Ross that the desk had been placed on the top of the desk back of the ledge which ran around the top. In front of the drawer where the money had been was a pile of letters neatly piled up. The jewelry of Mrs. Van Aken had been taken from her bureau in the room up stairs.

Dr. Ross on the stand gave a detailed description of the house when he entered and described the location of the rooms and the furniture. The bed room where Mrs. Van Aken was found was in perfect order when he arrived. Mrs. Van Aken was lying on the floor with several blood stained towels lying near her and on the floor was bloodstains which were described by Dr. Ross as having been partly wiped up. A first extinguisher of the long round type containing powder was hanging on the wall.

At 2:30 o'clock when Dr. Ross arrived, Mrs. Van Aken was dead and her body was already stiffening. His examination showed the body to be cold with the exception of a slight warmth at the hips.

There was a small cut on one lip and a long cut over the eye and two smaller bruised wounds, evidently made by some blunt instrument. On top of her head was another wound and on her throat were curved wounds such as would be made by the finger nails. At the time Dr. Ross came up stairs her arms were extended up toward her head and bent at the elbows and already stiff. Her knees were also drawn up and rigid.

The head was covered over with a piece of sheeting which was blood-stained and two blood stains on the carpet were covered up with towels. The blood spots were partly dried up. The clothing on the body had been drawn up to the knees and the stockings pulled down below the knees. There were several bruises on the knees, hip and arms. Dr. Ross said:

Dr. Ross testified as to the autopsy which he and Dr. Norwood performed the same afternoon at 4 o'clock. All of the organs were in a healthy, normal condition and there was no fracture of the skull, although under the one wound on the head was found a small amount of blood.

Dr. Ross described the location of the Van Aken property which is directly across the street from the photographs. The photographs are the same as used in the former trial and show the location of the different houses and streets in the vicinity.

Mr. Brinnier asked for the right to ask Dr. Ross as to his knowledge of the photographs and as to the condition of the foliage on the trees at the time of the crime. Dr. Ross testified that there were no leaves on the trees and on the former trial when he testified that there were some leaves on the trees he said he was referring to the leaves on the flat cedars and other similar trees. He said there was a privet hedge two feet high around the Van Aken property on the street side. The house is on the corner of Broadway and Stout avenue and along these two streets is the hedge.

Blood Spots at the Sink.

Van Aken told Dr. Ross he had not notified the authorities but that he, the doctor, did, and that he was satisfied. Dr. Ross said he would notify Coroner Kelly, and Van Aken asked that Mr. Kelly come prepared to care for the body. The body was moved only to place a pillow under the head, as Mr. Kelly requested.

Van Aken said his wife had begun to get dinner ready and he had gone to Rondout for meat, and that while he was in the house a tramp must have entered the house and killed Mrs. Van Aken.

Besides the blood spots in the bed room already described, there was a round blood spot one step inside the door, under the fire extinguisher that hung against the wall. This spot was about the size of the front part of the sole of a man's shoe.

The fire extinguisher, bloody-stained gingham dress and shoes worn by Mrs. Van Aken were introduced in evidence.

When Sheriff Doyle arrived, there was no fire in the stove. After making his first examination of Mrs. Van Aken's body, Dr. Ross examined the desk and also used the telephone, afterward washing his hands at the sink. The blood on his hands was dry at that time, and the pump handle was dry. Later, the doctor and Sheriff Doyle examined the pump handle and found a blood spot at the end, and also blood spots on the top of the sink. This was before the autopsy.

At 12:15 o'clock a recess was taken until 1:30 o'clock.

SOCIETY NOTES.

O'Brien-Smith.

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Peter's Church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Miss Grace Smith, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Smith of 150 Broadway and Patrick T. O'Brien of Ravens, son of Patrick O'Brien of 119 Cedar street, were united in marriage by the Rev. Joseph P. Neumann. They were attended by Miss Nellie O'Brien, a sister of the groom and Fay Smith, a brother of the bride. After a short wedding journey they will reside at Ravens.

Albrecht-Klonoski.

Harry Albrecht of No. 117 Hunter street and Miss Josephine Klonoski of No. 91 Moore street were married on Sunday at St. Mary's Church by the Rev. John J. Hickey. They were attended by Joseph Diamond as best man and Miss Mary Benetier as bridesmaid. Following the ceremony they left for a honeymoon trip by automobile through the Catskills and upon their return will reside on Hunter street. The groom is employed as an engineer on Dwyer's boatyard, and both he and his bride have the well wishes of a host of friends for a long and prosperous married life.

Heppner-Wolff.

A very pretty home wedding was celebrated on Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wolff on First avenue, when their daughter, Miss Bertha Wolff, became the bride of Frederick W. Heppner, youngest son of Mrs. Frederick Heppner of Crane street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Schroeder, pastor of the Livingston Street Lutheran Church. The ring ceremony was used. To the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played on the violin by William Wolff, accompanied on the piano by Miss E. Wolff, the bridal party entered the room. The best man was Martin Schleede and Miss Lena Wolff was bridesmaid. The bride was charmingly gowned in white crepe de chine. The ceremony was witnessed only by members of the immediate families. Following the ceremony a sumptuous wedding supper was served. The young couple were the recipients of a number of useful and beautiful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Heppner will reside on Crane street, where a cozily furnished home awaits them. Both bride and groom have the well wishes of a host of friends for a long and prosperous married life.

A Big Night in Kingston.

The next appearance of the E. J. McEnelly orchestra at the armory will be Wednesday evening, April 25, with a concert from 8 to 9, and a long cut over the eye and two smaller bruised wounds, evidently made by some blunt instrument. On top of her head was another wound and on her throat were curved wounds such as would be made by the finger nails. At the time Dr. Ross came up stairs her arms were extended up toward her head and bent at the elbows and already stiff. Her knees were also drawn up and rigid.

Turn and Turn About.

It was sometimes the custom of professors in former times to give free tickets for their courses, a kindness that was sometimes abused. In "The Book of Edinburgh Anecdotes," Francis Watt tells how the famous Dr. John Barclay, extramural lecturer on anatomy at the University of Edinburgh between 1797 and 1825, once applied a humorous corrective to an imposition of this kind.

He received a note from Doctor Laing, the well-known antiquary, requesting a free ticket for a young medical student. Barclay professed himself delighted to confer the favor, but invited the pupil to accompany him to Doctor Laing's book shop, where he selected books on anatomy to the exact value of a ticket for his course of lectures. Then, sagely remarking that without textbooks, his lectures were useless, he presented the books to the astonished youth as a gift from Doctor Laing. He would not listen to the young man's expostulation, but bade him and the books out of the shop. He did not find it necessary to repeat the lesson.

Battle of 1814 Campaign.

One hundred years ago March 15 the first land engagement of the campaign of 1814 was fought by the Americans and British at Lacolle, a town just across the Canadian border. The British had converted an old mill into a fort. The American army under General Wilkinson attempted to take the fortification by assault. The fighting lasted from about midday until darkness set in and was conducted with great vigor on both sides. In the evening the Americans withdrew, having failed to dislodge the British from their strongly fortified position. General Wilkinson and his troops returned to Plattsburg, and for a time the tide of war ebbed away from the frontier of lower Canada.

A Rash Bargain.

The minister dropped into the village barber shop for a shave, at the close of which he proffered the usual ten-cent price of the shop. "I'll take it in preaching, sir," replied the polite barber, refusing the offered coin. "My friend," rejoined the minister with some dignity, "I haven't a ten-cent sermon."

"That's all right, sir," quickly retorted the barber; "then I'll come twice."

The BACKYARD FARMER

PROF. J. WILLARD DOOLEY
(Copyright, Western Newspaper Union.)

WHEN SPRING BREAKS.

There is one great satisfaction in being too poor to go South for the winter and that is the fact that we can appreciate the coming of spring so much more than he who migrates with cold weather. Think of the price the wealthy pleasure seeker has to pay, and then take comfort. He leaves a bleak and frozen North in February and by the time he reaches the Gulf he has passed spring in the night and finds himself in the midst of summer. Coming back too early means getting used to winter all over again without any preliminaries and if he delays too long he hits another summer without a spring.

Spring breaks without warning and it does not linger long. Dearest of all days to those of us who love the countryside are the days between ice and mud, when the hens begin to lay and the price of eggs comes down. Of course your ungrateful hens would not lay an egg while the price was at fifty cents and they lay more than you can sell when it is at twenty-five.

A soft wind comes and before it disappears snow banks and winter clothes. Old corn stubble shows in the garden patch, old newspapers and last year's leaves show in the porch corners, and mother finds her glasses that Jimmie dropped out of her window the first day it snowed in the fall.

These days are the dearest of all the year, and possibly because they bring us closer in touch with the mysterious things of the universe. Vague longings, new impulses, awaken in the most matter-of-fact breast, and we put our best foot foremost then, if ever.

The rapidly warming ground calls all out of doors to drink deeply of the healing wind and grow young again in the freshly awakened memories of youthful springs of long ago. When this happy time comes, you enthusiasts may hie you away to your golf course, your tennis court, or the open road and the open roadster, but it's me to the backyard farm behind the house, a plot fifty by thirty feet, that gives me more pleasure and profit than so much ground ever gave any one before.

Forgotten are the hot days, the dull hoe and the mosquitoes of last year. In the immediate and rosy future appear crisp pink radishes, all the green peas one can eat, and best of all, two solid weeks of Golden Bantam corn. If you don't know about Golden Bantam, put the name down and plant some this year. It's worth all of the other garden "sasses" put together.

Of course one may be unable to get at the garden until the leaves have been cleared out of the gutters, the yard raked, the walks swept up, and the cellar cleaned out, because one must preserve appearances with so many watchful neighbors, but the garden will be reached in time, and that's where the real fun lies.

If you are a freshman at farming, you will probably figure on spading up your garden yourself. Go ahead and do it. Your health will be improved and your waist line decreased, and it will do you no end of good.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

The will of Christian Schleede of the town of Esopus has been admitted to probate by County Judge Jenkins as acting surrogate in the surrogate's court. The testator gives his household furniture to his wife, Caroline Schleede. The balance of the estate is given to his three sons, Martin W., Charles L. and George Schleede, equally, they being required to keep up the house in which their mother is to have a home as long as she lives; to pay her $250 every six months during her lifetime, and also within years to pay one-ninth of the net value of the estate as determined by agreement to each of the other children of the testator, Caroline Wentland, Louise Schleede, Hannah Murray, Christian Schleede, Edith Schleede and Walter Schleede. The three sons, Martin W., Charles L. and George Schleede, are appointed executors. The will was executed January 23, 1914, and witnessed by Surrogate Gill and Recorder Andrew Lang. The value of the real estate is $5,000 and the personal property amounts to $5,000. Frederick Stephan, Jr., appeared for the executor.

Greek Athletics Were "Crooked."

Crookedness among athletes was invented by the Greeks. The practice of one man allowing another to win a contest through a previous arrangement was common but unpopular. The penalty was for the guilty one to be fined heavily, and when a certain sum of money had thus been raised a monument was erected with inscriptions warning others to be good.

Going Deeper for Petroleum.

Although a continually greater supply of petroleum is being placed on the market, this increased output is secured only by sinking more wells and boring to a greater depth, showing that the surface supply is becoming exhausted. At the beginning of the century the wells touched 1,100 feet, and today the average level of the oil may be placed at 2,000 feet.

When Wagner first came in the adherents of the old school, with its lovely melodic phrases and forms, did not take kindly to it. ## UNCLE SAM M. D. AT CHAUTAUQUA

That is the Subject of Frank Dixon's Lecture Tonight at High School—Chautauqua Closes Tuesday With Chimes of Normandy.

This evening at Chautauqua in the high school auditorium Frank Dixon will deliver his lecture in "Uncle Sam M. D." Mr. Dixon has lectured here before and is an interesting speaker. The musical end of the program will be given by the Garland-Eckhoff-Jordan Company of four young women who come highly recommended.

Tuesday Chautauqua will be brought to a close with what is said to be the finest program of the seven joyous days. In the afternoon a fine concert will be given and Mrs. J. E. Owen Phillips will lecture in "The Soul of America." At night the opera, "The Chimes of Normandy" will be presented by a full cast, chorus and orchestra. This famous opera will make a fitting close to a program that has pleased the many patrons of Chautauqua.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. Bertha S. Titus gave an interesting talk on "Hawaii as I Know It," and the Arion Male Quartet sang. In the evening the morality play, "The Quest for Happiness," was presented by the College Players. The play made a decided hit with the audience. On Sunday a sacred concert was given by the male quartet and a fine address was given.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, April 23.—Port Ewen Lodge, No. 656, I. O. O. F. will meet this evening at 8 in their rooms in Pythian Hall.

"The Best Floor Covering I Ever Had"

It is entirely waterproof. Water does not decay even the edges. And water getting in underneath does no harm to the fabric.

Neponset Floor Covering is 100% waterproof. It's well to remember this when a long-wearing, economical floor covering is wanted for kitchen, pantry or hall.

Costs no more than linoleum. Many attractive patterns.

Let us show this new waterproof floor covering.

American Mineral Oil

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Use of Mineral Oil.

Dr. Le Tanneur contributes to the Paris Medical some practical points in the use of mineral oil in constipation. The oil, he says, is in no way digested or even modified by the juices of the stomach and intestines. It acts as a lubricant and nothing else, though it tends to heal abrasions of the intestinal wall caused by rough particles of food.

The New York Medical Journal says mineral oil should be taken either before breakfast or after dinner, two tablespoonsful being a dose. Its use should be continued every day for at least a fortnight, when the bowels will continue to work naturally without it, for the mineral oil is in no sense a cathartic, but it will cure constipation.—Kingston Daily Freeman, February 17, 1917.

65 BROADWAYELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, April 23.—At St. John's Episcopal Church Tuesday evening, the Right Rev. Charles Sumner Burch will preach and the apostolic rite of confirmation will be administered at 7:45 o'clock. A reception in the Parish House will follow.

The Rev. B. C. Gruver of Albany was in charge of the services at the Lutheran Church on Sunday. Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Phil Schaffer will entertain the ladies of the Sewing Circle and on Wednesday afternoon the Ladies' Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Paul Wintish at her home on Church street.

Norbury Hall was crowded to its doors Friday evening to hear Miss Ethel Newcomb in the piano recital she gave under the direction of the Ellenville Musical Club and through the courtesy of Mrs. Sarre of Yama Farms Inn, a benefit for the Red Cross work. It was conceded to have been one of the best entertainments ever accorded an Ellenville audience. Miss Newcomb's performance on the piano is wonderful. Miss Newcomb is an American by birth but spent many years in Europe in study of music with the famous master, Leschetzky, which resulted in not only many important engagements, but the much coveted position of assistant to that great master.

Miss Greta Rapp, teacher of sciences at the high school, has been tendered and accepted a position for the same work in the schools of Pleasantville, N. Y., with a handsome increase in salary.

Mrs. Grant S. Allen of Emporium, Pa., is visiting Ellenville relatives and friends.

Dr. and Mrs. John W. Rapp are receiving hearty congratulations upon the arrival of a son in their home on Main street, Saturday afternoon.

Calvin Lauber of New York, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lauber.

DuBois Collins and family of Bloomingburg spent Sunday with his father, Thomas H. Collins.

The members of the Dorcas Society will meet in the lecture room of the M. E. Church Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and spend the time sewing for the Red Cross organization.

Superintendent W. F. Harris is entertaining his father this week.

Mrs. Willet Toller has improved her home on Hermon street by adding a large front porch.

A large number of the present high school faculty and teachers of the grades, also Superintendent Harris, have signed the contracts to remain with the Ellenville schools next year. A few of the present force are considering taking positions elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Cleary of Brooklyn are spending some days in Ellenville as guests at the Mitchell House.

Mrs. Leslie B. Lyon is on a visit in New York for a week and then to Washington for an indefinite stay.

At the Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday morning, Miss Carolyn Clark contributed a very beautiful solo, entitled, "His Eye is on the Sparrow."

The Rev. J. E. Apple, the newly appointed pastor, delivered the sermon at both morning and evening service, and will have charge of the Wednesday evening prayer service.

The annual meeting of the Newburgh District Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, will be held in the Methodist Episcopal Church Friday, April 27, afternoon and evening session. Miss Elizabeth M. Strow of Fochow, China, will be the speaker of the evening. A very interesting program arranged will be given.

Offers Twelve Acres of Land.
Not behind hand in patriotic impulse, John Corra, who operates a roadhouse on the Saugerties road about six miles from Kingston has offered a tract of twelve acres of land suitable to cultivation for the use of anyone desiring to join the back-to-the-land movement and who will work the same this season. Mr. Corra says that his own business prevents him from working the land himself.

When you are gone you may be forgotten as soon as the defunct candidate for vice president, and that is painfully sudden.—Aitchison Globe.

CONGRESS READY FOR LONG DEBATE

Selective Conscription Believed Assured After Oratory on Bill is Exhausted—Opponents to President's Plan are Active in Senate and House.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, April 23.—The fight to empower the president to raise an army through selective conscription engaged the attention of both senate and house today. Although long hours of debate are ahead, the forces supporting the president's measure forecast victory for the White House as soon as the speech-making can give way to a vote. They claim that a "count of noses" has shown a majority of both houses for the plan.

The order of the fight in senate and house is reversed. The senate has before it from the military committee, the army bill in substantially the form it was drafted by the army general staff and approved by the president. It provides for the increase of the present regular army and National Guard through the volunteer system and then for the raising of the first increment of a new army of 500,000 men through selective conscription of men between 19 and 25 years old.

Senator McKellar of Tennessee is leading the forces which are working to overthrow the president's plan by authorizing the raising of the new army by calling first for volunteers and later resorting to conscription. If the volunteer system fails. In the house the enemies of the president's selective conscription plan won out in committee so the house draft advocates hope to restore on the floor the provisions which the senate maintained in committee.

In the senate the debate, which opened Saturday, was renewed immediately after the morning hour. In the house the army bill has the right of way as soon as the conference report on the $7,000,000,000 bond issue bill has been acted upon. It is expected that general debate in the house will be extended, eighteen hours being the time agreed to tentatively, before the measure is thrown open to amendment and debate under the five-minute rule. In the senate the greater part of today was expected to be devoted to set speeches on the measure.

Administration leaders declare that by the middle or last of the week the measure will have been enacted into law in the form the president desires.

HOLY NAME PLANS AN ENTERTAINMENT

The members of the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church will hold a musical and entertainment at the school hall on Wednesday evening beginning at 8 o'clock. Under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. John E. McCarthy an excellent program has been prepared for the evening. Music for the evening will be provided by Maiseholder's orchestra augmented by a Grecian orchestra which will furnish music for dancing following the entertainment.

Among those who names appear on the program are Miss Helen Stern, soprano; Miss Bessie Martin, soprano; John E. McCarthy, tenor and Mrs. McCarthy in musical numbers and specialties; Pedro Leyva, violinist; Master James Castor, boy soprano; Miss Agnes Dorsey, in aesthetic dancing; John Erno and his bery of dancing beauties.

With these well known people on the program the evening's entertainment promises to be one of the best and both Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy deserve great credit for the excellent program prepared. The entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock and after dancing will be enjoyed.

ONE CENT A WORD ADVS. BRING RESULTS*BEER contains about

92 per cent water and about
5 per cent of extract derived from hops and cereals, principally Barley-malt, and only about 3 to 4 per cent alcohol.

Why Do
People Drink
Beer?

The reason most people drink beer is because it tastes good. The reason they go on drinking beer is because it continues to do them good.

Beer is an ideal beverage. It quenches the thirst, gives nutriment to the body, and cheers up the spirits.

It is a wholesome food. The term "food" includes anything, either solid or liquid, that restores the waste tissues of the body or supplies heat and energy. The food contents of beer are all wholesome and nutritious. Besides being a food it is a beverage; that is, it not only sustains the body, but it satisfies thirst.

It contains just enough alcohol to refresh the system, sharpen the appetite and produce a general feeling of well being.

Beer is pleasing to all the senses. It is good to look at, its aroma is attractive, its taste is snappy and it is ideally adapted to gratify the cravings of the human body.

Centuries of use have established beer as the ideal drink, giving the maximum of pleasure.

NEW YORK STATE BREWERS' ASSOCIATION.*MAKE USE OF KINGSTON'S VACANT LAND BY RAISING VEGETABLES

The Chamber of Commerce, through a special committee, respecting the suggestion of the federal department of agriculture that all back yards be utilized as a preparedness step in being cultivated for raising vegetables, appeals to Kingston people to permit the use of vacant land. The committee asks all interested to make application for the use of vacant land and likewise asks that all having vacant land permit its use.

Fill out these blanks and forward:

Vacant Lot Garden Committee,
Chamber of Commerce, Kingston, N. Y.:

I hereby make application for an assignment for the free use of vacant property for the season of 1917 for the purpose of raising vegetables. I agree to use the land assigned to me solely for the purpose of planting, cultivating and raising vegetables, and I pledge myself to keep and leave the property in a clean and orderly condition and to do no damage to fences, trees and other improvement on the property.

I believe I can cultivate a piece of ground ..... feet by ..... feet.

UNWISSE advertising economy is an acquired habit with many merchants like olive and moving pictures, but when the habit is continued, it is a curse. They see to believe that each time they blackjack a dollar they are on the way to success, drawing it from their advertising expenditures. Really, such business men are short-sighted. They are not getting the most out of their advertising. The other kind won't do at all. Let me write you, and we will talk business. Address "George M. Zellmer," care of Kingston Freeman.

PATRIOTIC RALLY AT HIGH SCHOOL

National Colors of Twelve Allied Nations to be Represented by Senior Class Girls—Principal Address by Dr. Prentice—Organizations to Attend.

Arrangements have been completed for the great patriotic mass meeting to be held at the High School on the evening of Wednesday the 25th instant. Judge Clearwater, President of the National Security League, will preside. Addresses will be made by Judge Haskin, President of the Home Defense Committee; Dr. Sartell Prentice, Dean Hickey; Dr. Thomas H. Baragwanath, Pastor of St. James; Admiral Higginson and Judge Jenkins. The principal address will be by Dr. Prentice, who has traveled extensively abroad, and is entirely familiar with the condition of the European war. He is as well a distinguished archeologist, who married the daughter of the late Judge Aaron J. Vanderpool of Kinderhook, who at one time resided in Kingston.

Invitation have been extended to the congregations of every church, and the pastor of each one of them has been invited to a seat upon the platform. Other invitations are to the mayor, common council and city officers; the county officers, members of all the military, patriotic, benevolent and other organizations of the city. The members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the members of Co. M, the Spanish war veterans, the Old Guard, the Boy Scouts, the Clinton Guards and the Public School Cadets will meet at the Armory, and proceed by a life and drum corps will march to the High School in a body. When patriotic airs will be rendered by the Colonial City band.

A unique, picturesque and interesting feature of the evening will be the representation of the twelve allied Nations, the United States, France, Great Britain, Belgium, Italy, Russia, Japan, Serbia, Brazil, Portugal, Panama and Cuba, by girls of the senior class of the high school, who will appear upon the platform with the national flag of each of those countries. When that of the United States appears the band will play the Star Spangled Banner, and the audience will join in singing the national anthem.

The Daughters of the American Revolution will attend in a body. Agricultural Mobilization Day. The chairman, David Kigler, Meagher and Sergeant Fitzgerald will have charge of the decoration of the auditorium. The Grand Army of the Republic will be under the command of Major James H. Everett, the Old Guard under that of John G. Van Elten, Company M under Captain Meagher, Spanish War Veterans under Captain William C. Merritt, the various divisions of the Boy Scouts, Clinton Guards and Public School Cadets under the command of Captain Everett Powell and Charles A. Warren. The Knights of Columbus will attend in uniform under the command of E. P. Flanagan, grand knight.

A corps of twelve ushers of the members of the National Security League, under the leadership of Roger H. Loughran, secretary of that organization, will have charge of seating the audience, and all organizations which intend to attend the meeting in a body are requested immediately to report to Mr. Loughran the number of members by which they will be represented, in order that seats may be reserved for them.

CASHIER'S WINDOW OPEN.

Farmers May Now Step Up And Get Your Money.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Utica, April 23.—Marc W. Cole, superintendent of co-operation in the department of agriculture, today opened headquarters in this city for the distribution of the ten million dollars state loan fund to farmers as an incentive to increased crop production during the war.

Just at present the money will be given out in sums not larger than $150 at a rate of 4½ per cent interest. Circulars in regard to the loan have already been sent out to 900 Grange loan committees of the state, and 600 banks in various parts of the state will help in the distribution of the money.

Reception to Bishop Postponed.

Owing to the inability of Suffragan Bishop Burch of the Diocese of New York to reach Kingston on Sunday for the regular Episcopal visitation, the reception which was to have been tendered to him by the three Episcopal parishes in this city, Holy Spirit, Holy Cross and St. John's, at Holy Cross parish house this evening will be indefinitely postponed. Because of the illness of Bishop Greer of New York, Bishop Burch was obliged to delegate Bishop Hiram A. Hulst of Cuba to confirm the various classes in Kingston on Sunday. Bishop Burch expects to be able to reach Kingston in time for the big laymen's dinner of the men of the archdiocese to be given at Hotel Staynesant on Thursday evening of this week.

Ulster Garden Club to Attend.

The members of the Ulster Garden Club have been invited to attend the patriotic mass meeting to be held under the auspices of the Kingston Branch of the National Security League and the Home Defense Committee, at the auditorium of the high school on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to attend and are asked to meet in the corridors of the high school at 7:45 o'clock, promptly, in order that they may attend in a body.

ULSTER TOWNSHIP HOLDS A MEETING

Discussion of Crops Best Suited for This Season and World Crisis Brings Out a Wealth of Opinion at Lake Katrine Grange Hall.

A township meeting was held in the Grange Hall, Lake Katrine, on Saturday, April 21, pursuant to the call of Governor Whitman, requesting the observance of this date as Agricultural Mobilization Day.

The chairman, David Kigler, Meagher and Sergeant Fitzgerald will have charge of the decoration of the auditorium. The Grand Army of the Republic will be under the command of Major James H. Everett, the Old Guard under that of John G. Van Elten, Company M under Captain Meagher, Spanish War Veterans under Captain William C. Merritt, the various divisions of the Boy Scouts, Clinton Guards and Public School Cadets under the command of Captain Everett Powell and Charles A. Warren. The Knights of Columbus will attend in uniform under the command of E. P. Flanagan, grand knight.

A corps of twelve ushers of the members of the National Security League, under the leadership of Roger H. Loughran, secretary of that organization, will have charge of seating the audience, and all organizations which intend to attend the meeting in a body are requested immediately to report to Mr. Loughran the number of members by which they will be represented, in order that seats may be reserved for them.

"Would it be advisable to hold over the present surplus of hay?" The answer came quick and sharp: "We would have to as there is no market for it."

Another question was "How much are we justified in increasing acreage of the following crops," potatoes, cabbage, canning crops and other truck or garden crops. It would have been of great benefit to a number of the advisors of the farmer to have been present to hear the discussion following this question. It was pointed out that it would take about sixty dollars worth of seed potatoes to plant an acre, add to this fertilizer, sprouting materials and labor and the cost of the crop per acre is too high for the farmer to take risk on it to any great extent, it being very uncertain as to whether he would secure a crop after all his efforts. Cabbage was held to be less expensive, but far more uncertain. Canning crops were looked on with favor provided there was a cannery, but in the absence of one, it was a good thing to let alone.

In regard to truck and other garden crops, it was pointed out that with fifteen or twenty peddlers on every street in Kingston, and no market to which to take his produce and with every organization in the city urging people to grow up their lawns and gardens to grow vegetables "to keep down the price," the prospect for the farmer for extending his acreage was not encouraging.

Resolutions Passed.

Resolutions were adopted pledging all present individually and collectively to produce all the foodstuffs possible this season and as long as the war lasts, emphasizing the importance of the question of distribution and urging the governor to make proper appropriations to enable the commissioner of foods and markets to go ahead with the work as originally intended. The resolutions further state that the farmers have never failed in being patriotic and resented any insinuation that it was now necessary to urge them to greater production in this manner, that those who stand between the producer and the consumer are taking a toll twice as large as the producer receives for all his labor and risks, that our politicians are doing their utmost to protect these middlemen in their unfair monopoly and are making use of the present crisis to create a huge political machine in the state, the resolutions concluded with a call to the governor to put the commissioner of foods and markets in a position to care for the produce the farmers are urged to raise and reserve his appeals to patriotism for the politicians and middlemen who have so long fattened at the expense of the farmer.

FIRST GAME WON BY PRIMROSE CLUB

Before one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a ball game at McVey's field, the Primrose Club defeated the fast Mercury A. C. of Newburgh on Sunday afternoon by a score of 6 to 3.

The Primrose battery, Williams and Sneddes, proved too much for the Newburgh sluggers. Williams, despite the fact that this was his first game proved that he is one of the best pitchers in this section, by the easy manner in which he handled the Mercury's heaviest hitters. It was not until his team-mates had piled up a comfortable lead that he allowed his opponents to get within scoring distance.

The Primrose boys showed that they will give any team a battle by the way they used their bats yesterday, accumulating in all twelve hits off the offerings of the Newburgh twirlers, Scott and Hueston. Next Sunday the Primrose Club meets one of the fastest teams in the state, when they cross bats with the Troy all professionals of Troy. Williams and Sneddes will do the battery work for the Primrose Club.

HIGH SCHOOL NINE WINS OPENING GAME

The spring term of the high school sport calendar opened auspiciously Saturday. The baseball team nosed out Catskill High by a 5-4 score at the athletic field in the afternoon in the opening battle of the spring offensive, and the girls' basketball five emboldened their fame in the sport annals of the realm when they wound up a successful year by outclassing the athletes from Bennington, Vermont, by a 28-17 score, annexing as a result the championship of eastern New York and Vermont. The contest was staged at the Y. M. C. A. before a large crowd.

It was a day long heralded, and yearned for by sporting blood, whose lust was gratified by the intenseness of the two exhibitions. Fresh from an unbroken string of ten victories the Green Mountaineers had prepared the last rites for the remains of another worthy but hopeless enemy. They fought hard but were met more than half way by the stocky Colonial dandies who overcame a disadvantage in the first half and won easily. Like spring's tardy breaking of her fetters the baseballers who Saturday sported themselves so commendably for a premier must have neglected to remove the film from their batting optics. Both factions plunked out a measly total of ten safe bingles, one more than the number of runs.

Captain McAuliffe, of the Kingston tribe, twirled a master game, fanning eleven, walking only one, and so dazzling the Catskill swatters as to allow but ten of them to reach first. Of these, three were the result of errors.

Galt, the Catskill moundsman, had poor control, which deprived the locals of several more bingles. He walked six, Relyea three times, and winged Cordts twice. Between Galt's wildness and Cunningham's poor back-stopping, they well nigh made a present of the game to Kingston. The latter had four passed balls.

The Maroonettes made merry on the base line, purloining a total of eleven during the fracas. Runners were caught dozing off the bags several times, however.

The locals showed careful grooming. Whatever chances came to the infield were well disposed of, their errors being the result of attempts to stab swift liners. The outfield was on fixed duty nearly all the time, Catskill's artillery being of the short firing variety. The vets, McAuliffe, Relyea, Joyce, Johnson and Kiernan, were right up to former fame while the new men show promise of developing into fast players. Cordts at short got away with some clever plays.

The lack of stick work made the game rather listless, although home-head stunts by Catskill, which resulted in most of the Kingston runs, enlivened matters somewhat.

The fans must have been busy with the military census or the garden, for the turn-tickets were not a bit overworked.

Both teams tucked away a score in the first reel. After Hoyer had whiffed, Schlenker smote a steamer through short, advanced on Galt's single to center, but was forced at third when Baptiste grounded to McAuliffe. Johnson, in trying to catch Baptiste, threw wild and Galt tallied. Baptiste going to second. He pilfered third, but was left there when Cunningham grounded out to Joyce.

In their turn the Kingston lads were not slow to get acquainted with Herr Galt, Cordts especially, who collided in person with an offering. A passed ball moved him a peg forward. Joyce walked. Wilson grounded to Galt, who threw to third, forcing Cordts. Hoyer threw to Whitaker, who, instead of tagging the plate to catch Joyce, threw wild to the third baseman in a brilliant attempt to retch the thirdy retrif. Cordts, Joyce romped home. With Wilson on third Johnson popped out to Galt and Kiernan fanned.

After three Catskill batsmen had been levelled with machine-gun precision, the local warriors proceeded to annex a couple of more tallies, thusly; Relyea doubled to center. Howard fanned, but Miles sacrificed. McAuliffe's clout to left, Johnson running for Mac, pulled off some 10 ft stuff in stealing second and third and crossed the rubber when Whitaker failed to collide correctly with Cordts's liner. Joyce fled out to Baptiste.

Catskill's third round was a replica of the preceding one. Twice the Kingstons had a man on third but lacked the final punch. Wilson burned out the third Galt, stole second, reached third on a passed ball, but was caught napping by a clever play. With Hoyer far from the bag, Baptiste crept over from short and got a pass from Galt, retiring Wilson. After Johnson grounded out, Kiernan singled through short, ending at second when Decker bungled the play. Howard grounded to short, after Jim had reached third on a passed ball and after Relyea had walked and stolen second.

Cunningham relieved the monotony somewhat with a pretty double to right, with two down in the fourth. He stayed at second when Day weakly grounded to McAuliffe.

Miles fled to Baptiste and McAuliffe to Decker. Johnny Cordts managed to collide with another snail, again in person, and stole second. Joyce whiffed out.

The fifth produced little of note, both teams retiring in one, two, three order. Decker and Whitaker went through the three motions respectively and Myers's grounder was cared for by Johnson. Wilson fled to Whitaker, Myers got under a floater of Johnson's and Kiernan grounded out to Hoyer.

In the sixth verse Hoyer popped one to Cordts. Schlenker grounded to Johnson, and Galt to Joyce. Kingston's part bore more fruit. Relyea was allowed the first station on balls and then got the next one by pilfering. Howard fanned but Cunningham muffed the last, Relyea sliding home. Howard stole second after Miles had grounded out to Galt. McAuliffe laid out to the same personage but Howard beat the throw to third, both runners being safe. Howard was caught napping later, however, and with Cordts's strike-out the side retired.

Since the opening fusillade the victors had managed to acquit but one runner with first base in five innings. Mac's sympathetic nature got the better of him at this point and he let Cunningham bluff one for a single to right with one down in the seventh. Day sacrificed him. Decker lifted one to center, which was clearly Kiernan's ball. Cordts becoming restless and thinking that it was in his territory caught the ball but collided at the same time with Kiernan and dropped it, the runner scoring. Mac put on more speed and fanned Myers.

The locals threatened again in their half. With one down Joyce drew a pass, stole second, reaching third on Cunningham's wild heave. He tried to scamper home when Wilson grounded to Galt, but was tagged. Wilson stole second and got third on a passed ball. Johnson fanned.

A brace of errors and a hit evened up the score in the eighth. With one down Hoyer was walked, sacrificed by Schlenker, and scored on Galt's single to left, which Miles let go by him, putting Galt on second. Hoyer running for Galt, reached third on a passed ball and tallied when Johnson was a little late in fielding Baptiste's liner. Cunningham fanned.

An error likewise gave Kingston a run in this frame. Relyea drew a pass, romped to second and third on Netter's sacrifice, and scored when Baptiste, coming around from short to nip the runner, muffed Galt's throw, after Miles had fanned. McAuliffe walked, but Cordts grounded out to Galt.

Although Mac fanned three opposing hitters in the last frame, Catskill managed to place a man on third. With one down, Decker grounded to McAuliffe, who threw a wee bit too wide for Relyea, who had to take his foot from the bag. The runner stole second and reached third on a passed ball. From that vantage point and with but one point necessary to tie the count, he saw Myers and Whitaker take several lusty swings, but through the empty ether.

The Girls' Victory.

The Bennington-Kingston game turned out to be every bit the hotly fought match that was expected. Both teams weighed in at 125 pounds and they were evenly matched for aggressiveness, but the good work of the Kingston guards, especially Captain Schmid turned the trick.

The Vermont aggregation had trimmed all teams of note in their home locality and northern New York, while their challengers were champs of the Hudson. The locals have traversed more territory than any team, either boys' or girls', ever sporting Kingston's colors and hence by their victory are entitled to a bevy of compliments.

Girls' rules in the first half found the front line ladies more at home than the Kingston girls. The passwork of both clans was good and the close playing intensely interesting. Kingston, however, missed many chances to score through hasty shooting. At the end of the half Bennington had squirmed ahead on a 12-11 score.

The second half, however, with boys' rules put the locals in shipshape for a clean race to victory. Their shooting from field was of a high calibre, while their guarding was a repetition of the first half. Captain Schmid caged a total of four baskets, two of them wonder shots. The visitors were bewildered and squeezed in five points while Kingston was making seventeen.

There was much technical fouling by both sides throughout the game, but the teams were poor at making their chances at shooting good. Miss Barth refereed the first half; Fred Wenzel the second.

Miss Van Wagenen started at guard, was relieved by Miss Wood, who in turn was followed by Miss Bell a few minutes before time was called. The score:

cliff Sunday afternoon the Mystics of this city lost to the home team in the ninth inning by a score of 9 to 8. For the Mystics, Johnson started in batting, swatting out four hits, one of them a two-bagger, out of as many trips to the plate. Rhinecliff garnered three runs from Doyle's unsteadiness in the first frame but were held in check pretty well from that point on. The score.

VAN AKEN MURDER TRIAL NOW IN PROGRESS

Case Opened to the Jury by District Attorney Traver and First Witness for the Prosecution Gives Testimony—Dr. Ross Describes the Conditions he Found When Called in.

The trial of Edwin Van Aken on the charge of murdering his wife Carrie B. Van Aken at their home at Port Ewen on October 22, 1914, was begun before Judge Hasbrouck and a jury in the supreme court this morning when the first evidence in the case was presented to the jury.

District Attorney Traver opened the case to the jury in a twenty-five minute address in which he outlined the surroundings at the Van Aken home preceding and on the day of the murder. Attorney Traver began speaking at 10 o'clock and concluded at 10:20 o'clock and immediately thereafter Dr. George W. Ross of Port Ewen was called by The People as the first witness.

The Right Reverend of Consequences. In outlining the case to the jury, District Attorney Traver said: "The situation which presents itself in this case is an extremely grave and serious one. This is true because it not only involves the death of a human being but it is also because the charge against the defendant is a most serious one and a charge which if proven involves the most severe penalty."

Since by the nature of the case it is obvious that we should approach this consideration with attentive and serious minds, minds free from bias and prejudice, minds imbued with a spirit of fairness to all, approach it courageously and with a fixed determination to do the right, we see the right regardless of the consequences. At the outset therefore it would seem most important that we gain the right perspective and the proper point of view.

Individuals Not Involved. This is not in any sense a litigation between individuals. It is a litigation to determine guilt or innocence. It is a litigation to determine whether or not the defendant is guilty of the crime charged against him. It is a litigation to determine whether or not the defendant is guilty of the crime charged against him.

There has been some comment regarding circumstantial evidence and from that discussion you know that you will be called on to determine whether or not the defendant is guilty of the crime charged against him. has been built a state road running from Newburgh and Highland in the south northerly for a distance of one mile north of Port Ewen until it reaches the Rondout creek at Sleighsburch. From Sleighsburch to Rondout a small chain ferry plies back and forth making frequent trips each day carrying vehicles and passengers.

The premises of this defendant were a house and lot located at the southerly end of Port Ewen the house fronting on Broadway and the property extending from Broadway along Stout avenue to Green street. The defendant's barn is on Stout avenue.

There are two streets west of Broadway and running parallel with it. The first is Green street and the next is Stout avenue. Running east and west and at right angles to Broadway are several streets. Stout avenue extends along the Van Aken lot one block north is Main street, the next block north is Salem street and the next block north is Sleighsburch street.

The Van Aken House. The house of the defendant is of brick. The main part of the house is two stories on one side is a wing or a one story high. The main entrance is at the south east corner of the house facing Broadway.

Going in the front door one comes by the hall which leads back to the kitchen at the rear with a door opening in the kitchen at the front of the hall is a door opening in the hall one enters the sitting room which occupies the space included in the one story wing. Back of the sitting room is the kitchen which can be entered from a door from the sitting room.

On entering the front door of the house in the hall there is a stairway leading to the upper story. Going upstairs on turning to the right there is a bedroom known as the back bedroom and directly in front of the front bedroom there is a door between these two rooms.

The Circumstances. In the back bedroom on October 22, 1914 the body of Mrs. Carrie B. Van Aken was found. On the morning of that day Edwin Van Aken and his wife were together in their home particularly in the morning and until about 12 o'clock at which time the defendant left his house in the back kitchen door. That door is a door.

back requiring a particular kind of key to unlock it. He passed out of the house and looked the door blind him. It appears that at that time Carrie B. Van Aken was in the house dead.

The defendant proceeded to his barn and hitched up his horse and then, notwithstanding the fact that he and his wife had intended to have a light lunch and go to Rondout to get his horse and wagon without his lunch and without his wife.

Then he started for Rondout with the reason why he started to Rondout at that particular time we shall have particular concern in this case.

Instead of going down the street way he went by what is termed the back way. The roundabout court taken by Edwin Van Aken to reach the ferry was described by District Attorney Traver.

By this way he avoided passing through the business section of Port Ewen which is situated in Broadway between Stout avenue and Sleighsburch street.

He drove on down to the Sleighsburch ferry and crossed the creek to Rondout and he did so as a part of his business. Now what was that important business? When he reached Rondout he had his horse and wagon and he went to a butcher shop and bought some steak which he had at one time was for dinner and at another time said was for supper.

He went to a store and bought some collars. He visited a couple of saloons and bought a couple of drinks. Then he got his horse and wagon and returned on the Sleighsburch ferry to Port Ewen and drove his car to the house which he reached about 10 o'clock.

Shortly after that he telephoned to Dr. Ross who lived directly across the street and to Mr. Van Deiver who lived next to Dr. Ross who came over to his house. They were followed shortly afterward by Sheriff Doyle, Under Sheriff Diamond and Mr. Conners and they found Mrs. Van Aken dead in the back bedroom.

To Establish a Hint. I prefer that you get your idea of the testimony directly from the witness themselves but I shall state that these witnesses heard and saw things which we shall prove and in addition we shall prove that the real reason why the defendant made that trip to Rondout was not because he was in need of steak or because he wanted collar but because he knew that on that day that back bedroom was the place where his wife was to be found.

Something awful has happened doctor come up stairs was the shouting from Mr. Van Aken when he arrived at the door.

On the way up stairs Mr. Van Aken told Dr. Ross that during his absence to Rondout someone had entered the house and broke open his desk drawers and taken a few dollars from a drawer there and gone.

When I came home I found the desk door open and the money gone and Mrs. Van Aken dead on the floor upstairs said Mr. Van Aken on the way up the stairs.

He said he had left the house between 11:20 and 1 o'clock to go to Rondout for meat.

He also spoke of some of Mrs. Van Aken's jewelry being gone. Her watch and ring were gone and also a sum of church money which she had in the house he said he had been unable to find. He said the rear door had been locked when he went away and when he came home it was open.

Dr. Ross testified that the lock on the rear door was a spring Yale lock which opened itself when the door was closed. As he passed through the kitchen on his way up stairs he saw some meat on the kitchen stove cooking.

During the time the two men were passing up stairs Mr. Van Aken told of his coming home and how he found things when he arrived at the house. When they arrived at the top of the stairs the door Dr. Ross made an examination of Mrs. Van Aken and while he was doing this Mr. Van Aken stayed with him in the room.

When they had finished the examination and came down stairs they made an examination of the desk where the money was claimed to have been. The desk had been locked when Mr. Van Aken left for Rondout but he told Dr. Ross and the jury that he had been placed on the top of the desk a book of the ledger which ran around the top. In front of the drawer where the money had been was a pile of letters neatly piled up.

The jewelry of Mrs. Van Aken had been taken from her bureau in the room up stairs.

Dr. Ross on the stand gave a detailed description of the house when he entered and described the location of the rooms and the furniture. The bed room where Mrs. Van Aken was found was in perfect order when he arrived. Mrs. Van Aken was lying on the floor with several blood stained towels lying near her and on a table.

Dr. Ross having been partly wiped up by an extinguisher of the long round type containing powder was hanging on the wall.

At 10 o'clock when Dr. Ross arrived Mrs. Van Aken was dead and her body was already stiffening. His examination showed the body to be cold with the exception of a slight warmth at the hips.

There was a small cut on one hip and a long cut over her eye and two smaller bruised wounds evidently made by some blunt instrument. On top of her head was another wound and on her throat were curved wounds such as would be made by the finger nails. At the time Dr. Ross came up stairs her arms were extended toward her head and bent at the elbows and already stiff. Her knees were also drawn up and rigid.

The head was covered over with a piece of sheeting which was blood stained and two blood stains on the carpet were covered up with towels. The blood spots were partly dried up. On clothing on the body had been drawn up to the knees and the stockings pulled down below the knees. There were several bruises on the knee, hip and arms Dr. Ross said.

Dr. Ross testified as to the autopsy which he and Dr. Norwood performed the same afternoon at 4 o'clock. All of the organs were in a healthy normal condition and there was no fracture of the skull although under the one wound on the head was found a small amount of blood.

Dr. Ross described the location of the Van Aken property which is directly across the street from his house and identified a number of photographs. The photographs show the same as used in the former trial and show the location of the different houses and streets in the vicinity.

Mr. Brincker asked for the right to ask Dr. Ross as to his knowledge of the photographs and as to the condition of the foliage on the trees at the time of the crime. Dr. Ross testified that there were no leaves on the trees and on the former trial when he testified that there were some leaves on the trees he said he was referring to the leaves on the first floor and other similar trees. He said there was a privet hedge two feet high around the Van Aken property on the corner of Broadway and Stout avenue and along these two streets is the hedge.

Blood Spots at the Sink. Van Aken told Dr. Ross he had not notified the authorities but called on the doctor dead woman was satisfactory. Dr. Ross said he would not go to Rondout and Van Aken asked that Mr. Kelly come prepared to care for the body. The body was moved only to place a pillow under the head as Mr. Kelly requested.

Van Aken said he wife had been to get meat and that while he was in Rondout a tramp must have entered the house and killed Mrs. Van Aken.

Dr. Ross described the blood spots in the back bedroom and said that there was a blood spot on the floor inside the door under the fire extinguisher that hung against the wall. This spot was about the size of the front part of the sole of a man's shoe.

The fire extinguisher, blood-stained gingham dress and shoes worn by Mrs. Van Aken were introduced in evidence.

When Sheriff Doyle arrived there was no fire in the stove. After making his first examination of Mrs. Van Aken's body, Dr. Ross examined the desk and also used the telephone afterward washing his hands at the sink. The blood on his hands was dry at that time and the pump handle was dry. Later the doctor and Sheriff Doyle examined the pump handle and found a blood spot at the end and also blood spots on the top of the sink. This was before the autopsy.

At 12:15 o'clock a recess was taken until 1:30 o'clock.

SOCIETY NOTES. O'Brien Smith. A very pretty wedding took place in St. Peter's Church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Miss Grace Smith only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Smith of 150 Broadway and Patrick T. O'Brien of 119 Cedar street were united in marriage by the Rev. Joseph P. Neumann. They were attended by Miss Nellie O'Brien a sister of the groom and Fay Smith a brother of the bride. After a short wedding journey they will reside at Ravena.

Albrecht-Klonoski. Harry Albrecht of No. 11, Hunter street and Miss Josephine Klonoski of No. 91 Moore street were married on Sunday at St. Mary's Church by the Rev. John J. Hickey. They were attended by Joseph Diamond as best man and Miss Mary Demarees as bridesmaid. Following the ceremony they left for a home in the city by automobile through the Catskills and upon their return will reside on Hunter street. The groom is employed as an engineer on Duane's boatyard and both he and his bride have the well wishes of a host of friends for a long and prosperous married life.

Heppner Wolf. A very pretty home wedding was celebrated on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wolf on First avenue when their daughter, Miss Gertha Wolf became the bride of Frederick Heppner youngest son of Mrs. Frederick Heppner of Crane street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Schroeder pastor of the Irvington Street Lutheran Church. The ring ceremony was used. The strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin played on the violin by William Wolf accompanied on the piano by Miss E. Wolf the bride party entered the room. The best man was Martin Schleede and Miss Lena Wolf was bridesmaid. The bride was charmingly gowned in white crepe de chine. The ceremony was witnessed only by members of the immediate families. Following the ceremony a sumptuous wedding supper was served. The young couple were the recipients of a number of useful and beautiful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Heppner will reside on Crane street. Both bride and groom have the well wishes of a host of friends for a long and prosperous married life.

A Big Night in Kingston. The next appearance of the E. J. McElroy orchestra at the University will be Wednesday evening, April 25, with a concert from 8 to 9 o'clock. The same popular price will prevail and it will not be the usual good time but a better one as a special event during the evening. The orchestra will be directed by the conductor, Mr. McElroy who has the reputation of being one of the best dancers appearing before the public today will feature such dances as Black and White, Polka, Blue Danube, Waltz, Novelties, Fox Trot and Brazilian Tango. They have danced in the largest cities of the east and made a hit where they have been seen. The couple have been seen on the champion ship of New England. With the McElroy orchestra which easily holds the championship as the best orchestra on the stage today and these champion dancers combined it will be a particularly attractive and interesting evening to please dancers and music lovers of Kingston and vicinity.

Box-Count Address. William H. Weisheit and John B. Flanagan from the National Headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America were guests of the P. C. G. L. of the Kingston Presbyterian Church last evening. Through the invitation of Mr. E. H. Weisheit of the Boy Scouts who has just returned from a six month's campaign in Florida gave an interesting and deal of the Boy Scout movement. Mr. Flanagan had previously spoken at the young people's meeting on the same subject. Mr. Weisheit and Mr. Flanagan are in Kingston for the purpose of bringing about a permanent Scout organization the latter as temporary executive.

Midsummer Free. The members of the Whatsoever Band of the Rondout Presbyterian Church will give an entertainment, Midsummer Eve in the chapel of the church on Friday evening. A small admission will be charged and ice cream and cake will be for sale after the performance.

A Rash Bargain. The minister dropped into the village barber shop for a shave at the close of which he proffered the usual ten-cent price of the shop. "I'll take it in present coin" replied the polite barber, "rejoiced the minister with some flimsy 'I haven't a ten-cent coin'." "That's all right sir," quickly retorted the barber, "then I'll come twice."

There is one great satisfaction in being too poor to go South for the winter and that is the fact that we can appreciate the coming of spring so much more than he who migrates with cold weather. Think of the price the wealthy pleasure seeker has to pay, and then take comfort. He leaves a block and frozen North in February and by the time he reaches the Gulf he has passed spring in the night and finds himself in the midst of summer. Coming back too early means getting used to winter all over again without any preliminaries and if he delays too long he hits another summer without a spring.

Spring breaks without warning and it does not linger long. Dearest of all days to those of us who love the countryside are the days between ice and mud when the hens begin to lay and the price of eggs comes down. Of course your ungrateful hens would not lay an egg while the price was at fifty cents and they lay more than you can sell when it is at twenty-five.

A soft wind comes and before it disappears snow banks and winter clothes. Old corn stubble shows in the garden patch old newspapers and last year's leaves show in the porch corners, and mother finds her glasses that Jimmie dropped out of her window the first day it snowed in the fall.

These days are the dearest of all the year and possibly because they bring us closer in touch with the mysterious things of the universe. Vague longings new impulses, awaken in the most matter of fact breast, and we put our best foot foremost then if ever.

The rapidly warming ground calls all out of doors to drink deeply of the healing wind and grow young again in the freshly awakened memories of youthful springs of long ago. When this happy time comes you enthusiasts may hie you away to your golf course your tennis court or the open road and the open roadster but it is to the backyard farm behind the house a plot fifty by thirty feet that gives the more pleasure and profit than so much ground ever gave any one before.

Forgotten are the hot days the dull hoe and the mosquitoes of last year. In the immediate and rosy future appear crisp pink radishes all the green peas one can eat and best of all two solid weeks of Golden Bantam corn. If you don't know about Golden Bantam put the name down and plant some this year. It's worth all of the other garden sows put together.

Of course one may be unable to get at the garden until the leaves have been cleared out of the gutters the yard raked the walks swept up and the cellar cleaned out because one must preserve appearances with so much a casual neighbor's eye. The garden will be reached in time and that's where the real fun lies.

If you are a freshman at farming, you will probably figure on spending your garden yourself. Go ahead and do it. Your health will be improved and your waist line decreased and it will do you no end of good.

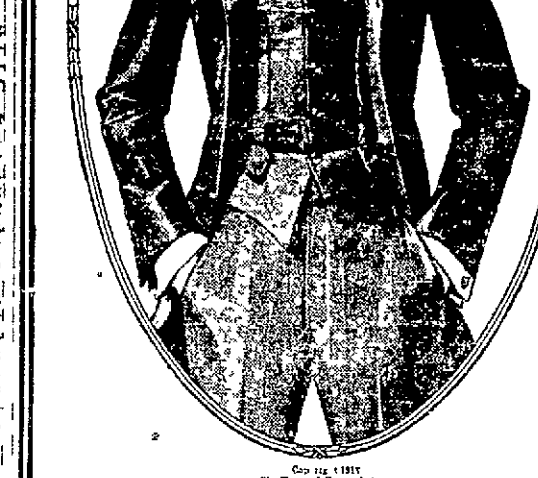

Turn and Turn About. It was sometimes the custom of professors in former times to give free tickets for their courses a kindness that was sometimes abused. In "The Book of Edinburgh Anecdotes" Francis Watt tells how the famous Dr. John Barclay extramural lecturer on anatomy at the University of Edinburgh between 1790 and 1820 once applied a humorous corrective to an imposition of this kind.

He received a note from Doctor Laidlaw the well known antiquary requesting a free ticket for a young medical student. Barclay professed himself delighted to confer the favor but invited the pupil to accompany him to Doctor Laidlaw's book shop where he selected books on anatomy to the exact value of a ticket for his course of lectures. Then sagely remarking that without textbooks his lectures were useless he presented the books to the astonished youth as a gift from Doctor Laidlaw. He would not listen to the young man's protestation but bundled him and the books out of the shop. He did not find it necessary to repeat the lesson.

Battle of 1814 Campaign. One hundred years ago March 15 the first land engagement of the campaign of 1814 was fought by the Americans and British at Lacolle a town just across the Canadian border. The British had converted an old mill into a fort. The American army under General Wilkinson attempted to take the fortification by assault. The fighting lasted from about midday until darkness set in and was conducted with great vigor on both sides. The evening the Americans withdrew having failed to dislodge the British from their strongly fortified position. General Wilkinson and his troops returned to Plattsburg and for a time the tide of war ebbed away from the frontier of lower Canada.

Feet and Character. Patience—Don't you think feet are an indication of character? Patience—No I don't. "Why not?" "Why, just look at the big feet Fred's got and yet he hasn't much character."

Foreign Export Aid China. China exports nearly 4,000 tons of goods from Europe and America to run her railways post office etc. There are 1,000 British and 100 Americans on the job many of the latter in the most important offices.

Lecture Tonight at High School—

Chautauqua Closes Tuesday With

(Chimes of Normandy)

This evening at Chautauqua in the high school auditorium Frank Dixon

will deliver his lecture in Uncle

Sam M. D. Mr. Dixon has lectured here before and is an interesting speaker. The musical end of the program will be given by the Garland-Lekhoff-Jordan Company, of four young women who come highly recommended.

Tuesday Chautauqua will be brought to a close with what is said to be the finest program of the seven-dayous days. In the afternoon a fine concert will be given and Mrs. J. B.

Owen Phillips will lecture in The Soul of America. At night the opera The Chimes of Normandy will be presented by a full cast chorus and orchestra. This famous old opera will make a fitting close to a program that has pleased the patrons of Chautauqua.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. Bertha

S. Titus gave an interesting talk on

'Hawaii as I know it' and the

Aston Male Quartet sang. In the evening the morality play The Quest for Happiness was presented by the College Players. The play made a decided hit with the audience. On Sunday a sacred concert was given by the male quartet and fine address was given.

American Mineral Oil*PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT*Use of Mineral Oil

Dr. Le Tanneur contributes to the Paris Medical some practical points in the use of mineral oil in constipation. The oil he says is in no way digested or even modified by the juice of the stomach and intestines. It acts as a lubricant and nothing else though it tends to heal abrasions of the intestinal wall caused by rough particles of food.

The New York Medical Journal says mineral oil should be taken either before breakfast or after dinner two tablespoonfuls being a dose. Its use should be continued every day for at least a fortnight when the bowels will continue to work naturally without it for the mineral oil is in no sense a cathartic but it will cure constipation.—Kingston Daily Freeman February 17, 1917.

Why Do People Drink Beer?

The reason most people drink beer is because it tastes good. The reason they go on drinking beer is because it continues to do them good.

Beer is an ideal beverage. It quenches the thirst, gives nutriment to the body, and cheers up the spirits. It is a wholesome food. The term "food" includes anything, either solid or liquid, that restores the waste tissues of the body or supplies heat and energy. The food contents of beer are all wholesome and nutritious. Besides being a food it is a beverage; that is, it not only sustains the body, but it satisfies thirst.

It contains just enough alcohol to refresh the system, sharpen the appetite and produce a general feeling of well being.

Beer is pleasing to all the senses. It is good to look at, its aroma is attractive, its taste is snappy and it is ideally adapted to gratify the cravings of the human body.

Centuries of use have established beer as the ideal drink, giving the maximum of pleasure.

MAKE USE OF KINGSTON'S VACANT LAND BY RAISING VEGETABLES

The Chamber of Commerce, through a special committee, respecting the suggestion of the federal department of agriculture that all back yards be utilized as a preparedness step in being cultivated for raising vegetables, appeals to Kingston people to permit the use of vacant land. The committee asks all interested to make application for the use of vacant land and likewise asks that all having vacant land permit its use.

Fill out these blanks and forward:

Vacant Lot Garden Committee,
Chamber of Commerce, Kingston, N. Y.

I hereby make application for an assignment for the free use of vacant property for the season of 1917 for the purpose of raising vegetables. I agree to use the land assigned to me solely for the purpose of planting, cultivating and raising vegetables, and I pledge myself to keep and leave the property in a clean and orderly condition and to do no damage to fences, trees and other improvement on the property.

I believe I can cultivate a piece of ground _____ feet by _____ feet.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, April 23.—At St. John's Episcopal Church Tuesday evening, the Right Rev. Charles Sumner Dorch will preach and the apostolic rite of confirmation will be administered at 7:45 o'clock. A reception in the Parish House will follow.

The Rev. H. C. Gruver of Albany was in charge of the services at the Lutheran Church on Sunday. Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Phil. Schaefer will entertain the ladies of the Sewing Circle and on Wednesday afternoon the Ladies Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Paul Windish at her home on Church street.

Norbury Hall was crowded to its doors Friday evening to hear Miss Ethel Newcomb in the piano recital she gave under the direction of the Ellenville Musical Club and through the courtesy of Mrs. Sarre of Yama Farms Inn. A benefit for the Red Cross work. It was conceded to have been one of the best entertainments ever accorded an Ellenville audience. Miss Newcomb's performance on the piano is wonderful. Miss Newcomb is an American by birth but spent many years in Europe in study of music with the famous master, Liszt, which resulted in not only many important engagements, but the much coveted position of assistant to that great master.

Miss Greta Rapp, teacher of sciences at the high school, has been tendered and accepted a position for the same work in the schools of Pleasantville, N. Y., with a handsome increase in salary.

Mrs. Grant S. Allen of Emporium, Pa., is visiting Ellenville relatives and friends.

Dr. and Mrs. John W. Rapp are receiving hearty congratulations upon the arrival of a son in their home on Main street, Saturday afternoon.

Calvin Lauber of New York, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lauber.

DoBols Collins and family of Hoenningburgh spent Sunday with his mother, Thomas H. Collins.

The members of the Dorcas Society will meet in the lecture room of the M. E. Church Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and spend the time working for the Red Cross organization.

Superintendent W. F. Harris is entertaining his father this week.

Mrs. Willet Teller has improved her home on Hermance street by adding a large front porch.

A large number of the present high school faculty and teachers of the grades, also Superintendent Harris, have signed the contracts to remain with the Ellenville schools next year. A few of the present force are considering taking positions elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Cleary of Brooklyn are spending some days in Ellenville as guests at the Mitchell House.

Mrs. Leslie R. Lyon is on a visit in New York for a week and then to Washington for an indefinite stay.

At the Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday morning, Miss Carolyn Clark contributed a very beautiful solo, entitled, "His Eye is on the Sparrow."

The Rev. J. E. Appleby, the newly appointed pastor, delivered the sermon at both morning and evening service, and will have charge of the Wednesday evening prayer service.

The annual meeting of the Newburgh District Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, will be held in the Methodist Episcopal Church Friday, April 27, afternoon and evening session. Miss Elizabeth M. Strow of Fochow, China, will be the speaker of the evening. A very interesting program arranged will be given.

Offers Twelve Acres of Land.

Not behind hand in patriotic impulse, John Corra, who operates a roadhouse on the Saugerties road about six miles from Kingston has offered a tract of twelve acres of land suitable to cultivation for the use of anyone desiring to join the back-to-the-land movement and who will work the same this season. Mr. Corra says that his own business prevents him from working the land himself.

Painfully Sudden.

CONGRESS READY FOR LONG DEBATE

Selective Conscription Billers Assured After Oratory on Bill Is Exhausted—Opponents to President's Plan are Active in Senate and House.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, April 23.—The fight to empower the president to raise an army through selective conscription engaged the attention of both senate and house today. Although long hours of debate are ahead, the forces supporting the president's measure forecast victory for the White House as soon as the speech-making can give way to a vote. They claim that a "count of noses" has shown a majority of both houses for the plan.

The order of the fight in senate and house is reversed. The senate has before it from the military committee, the army bill in substantially the form it was drafted by the army general staff and approved by the president. It provides for the increase of the present regular army and National Guard through the volunteer system and then for the raising of the first increment of a new army of 500,000 men through selective conscription of men between 19 and 25 years old.

Senator McKellar of Tennessee is leading the forces which are working to overthrow the president's plan by authorizing the raising of the new army by calling first for volunteers and later resorting to conscription. If the volunteer system fails, in the house the enemies of the president's selective conscription plan won out in committee so the house draft advocates hope to restore on the floor the provisions which the senate maintained in committee.

In the senate the debate, which opened Saturday, was renewed immediately after the morning hour. In the house the army bill has the right of way as soon as the conference report on the $7,000,000,000 bond issue bill has been acted upon. It is expected that general debate in the house will be extended, eighteen hours being the time agreed to tentatively, before the measure is thrown open to amendment and debate under the five-minute rule. In the senate the greater part of today was expected to be devoted to set speeches on the measure.

Administration leaders declare that by the middle or last of the week the measure will have been enacted into law in the form the president desires.

HOLY NAME PLANS AN ENTERTAINMENT

The members of the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church will hold a musical and entertainment at the school hall on Wednesday evening beginning at 8 o'clock. Under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. John E. McCarthy an excellent program has been prepared for the evening. Music for the evening will be provided by Malsenholder's orchestra augmented by a Greelan orchestra which will furnish music for dancing following the entertainment.

Among those who names appear on the program are Miss Helen Stearn, soprano; Miss Beale Martin, soprano; John E. McCarthy, tenor and Mrs. McCarthy in musical numbers and specialties; Pedro Leyra, violinist; Master James Castor, boy soprano; Miss Agnes Dorsey, in aesthetic dancing; John Erno and his boys of dancing beauties.

With these well known people on the program the evening's entertainment promises to be one of the best, and both Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy deserve great credit for the excellent program prepared. The entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock and after dancing will be enjoyed.
